The Scriptural citations in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" for Sunday, February 10, include from the book of Acts the conversation between Philip and the Ethiopian eunuch—"and the eunuch said, See here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized? And Philip said, if thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God" (8:36, 37).

Correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all impurities of flesh, signifies that the phre in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration. It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for sinful beliefs to enter the kingdom of heaven, eternal harmony. Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality. It is only a question of time when they shall all know Me (God) from the least of them unto the greatest." (page 241).

"What have they seen in thine house?" the pastor asked his congregation in a special Christian Home Day service last Saturday morning. The basis of a happy home is love, expressed in both words and deeds. He admonished the husband who loves his wife to "tell her so," and let everyone of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife that rever her husband.

The pastor urged erection of the family altar in every home as necessary to preserve its peace and happiness.

Community Concert members can look forward to a fine evening of music for according to New York critics "Frances Bible has a clear melodious, disciplined mezzo-soprano and she knows how to use it. She has a quiet charm which is most persuasive; she is also an ingratiating actress. And she is musical."
