Primary Ballots Come To Printers

The Republican primary ballots are in the hands of the printers. "The Typo-Print," Gold Beach, which will work in conjunction with The Pilot in printing in the next week or so, or in time to be in the hands of the county clerk before the primary election, on May 16.

Republican primary ballot is likely to be about the size of an ordinary general election ballot, since there are 50 nominees for the state at large for delegates to the national Republican convention. In addition to these a list of 12 is to appear on the ballot for the Fourth Congressional district. Of the fifty, ten will be named, and for the district, two will be named. When these ballots are printed, sample ballots for the two local voting precincts will be available at the Pilot office.
