

SMITH RIVER

By Ethel Goodlin

Smith River fire department was called out about midnight on Monday night to fight a fire in the furnace and boiler room of the Smith River Co-operative Creamery. The furnace is an oil-burner, and report is that the fire started from an explosion in that room. The fire spread rapidly to the remainder of the building and flames shot 100 feet into the air from the burning oil. The Crescent Fire Department was called to help, and succeeded in saving the large creamery building, but it had caught fire about the tower. Machinery in the furnace room is a total loss. This is a heavy
