

Baseball Dinner Billed By 'Inn'

Pete J. Lesmeister, business manager for the Brookings Beavers, isn't the only one in this area who likes baseball—who is ready to help put Brookings on the map, baseball-wise, as it were—ask Joseph Taylor at the Chetco Inn, who is going to stage a dinner rally, with proceeds above costs to go toward the financial success of the Beavers.

Southwestern Oregon League is probably the "fastest" league in the state, and that does not exclude those around Portland. It costs money to field a team—plenty of money. This is an asset the local Beavers are not overburdened with. Brookings cannot go out on the baseball market to bid for "name" players. Brookings only hope is to interest the promising college lads who seek jobs for the summer, to finance the next school year. Last Year Pete had a few—and they played excellent ball, giving the fans a season far above expectations.

Read the advertisement of the Chetco Inn, elsewhere in this issue and do your part.

The dinner has been set for Saturday, May 24. There will be other things of interest besides a meal. That $2.50 will be well spent, that's for certain.

Shriners Bill Big Event, Grants Pass

GRANTS PASS—Members of Hillah Temple, Noble of the Mystic Shrine, will meet here Saturday, May 17, for their spring 'ceremonial. Several Nobles of Brookings will be present to witness a class of over 100 cross the hot sands.

The Grants Pass and Josephine county members have been busy for some time in preparation for the event under direction of Austin B. Brownell, P. P., general chairman. With the afternoon events listed to occupy every moment, additional time has been arranged for the evening activities which will meet the approval of the visiting Nobles.

Making their first ceremonial appearance will be the tuxedo-clad Potentates Escort under the direction of Rex Barnett. The escort will be the official group, honorary Potentate Eugene H. Tardy of Grants Pass.

The Redwoods Hotel will be registration headquarters with all major events being held in the large Memorial gymnasium.

Tanks To You

The F. O. E. and Auxiliary members wish to thank: Connie Jaklewicz, Nell MacKenzie, Fred Fox, Lillie Brown, Mildred James, Mrs. Wheeler and her baton twirlers and Rev. E. C. Hicks and all who helped make our Mother's day program a success.

Society Sets Date For Annual Meet.

Coos-Curry Pioneer picnic will be held Saturday, July 26 at McCloskey Grove at Norway. This change was made by majority vote at the monthly meeting of the Pioneer and Historical Association officers and directors last Saturday.

J. H. McCloskey and Henry A. Schroeder will arrange for tables, etc., that the grove and Mrs. Al Volck has been asked to arrange a program.

Deliveries of the new history "A Century of Coos and Curry" are being made as rapidly as possible.
