

Pictures Shown Tuesday At June Meet Of Brookings Chamber Of Commerce

After an excellent dinner served by ladies of the Altar Society, the Brookings Chamber of Commerce, under leadership of Paul Davis, new president, enjoyed an evening of pictures, furnished by Albert Weisendanger, of "Keep Oregon Green," who with his wife, gave interesting talks on methods and results of that association in its effort to prevent forest fires.

The film, "The New Oregon Trail," contained many scenes of the Brookings and Harbor areas and the coast line. These pictures, shown all over the east, certainly give this area plenty of advertising.

Mr. Weisendanger stated that the "Green Guard," a society in which the youth of Oregon participate, is on a par with scouting and 4-H work in its achievements. Results cannot be measured exactly.

Committees report plans for a Queen's float for the lily parade as completed and that an effort will be made to assist the postmaster to obtain more boxes for the Brookings postoffice.

Gordon Goetz reported that the Chetco river mouth was becoming filled with sand, and made the assertion that unless it were kept open the fall run of salmon would be unable to enter the river.

Equipment was offered for this purpose at half price by Elmer Bankus.

The need of services of a veterinarian for this area was emphasized and a committee will try to find a man to come here.

The door prize, an ice cream freezer, donated by Chetco Home & Auto Supply) was won by Mrs. Irene McPherson of Harbor.

Local News

Vic Reynolds went to Portland to spend Tuesday and Wednesday at the Veterans Hospital for a physical check-up.

Mrs. Don Young went to Camas, Wash., to visit her father, on Fathers Day.

Chris Brown, one of Brookings' lads now in the service, returned last week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brown. He brought his recent bride, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atcheson and her brother, Pete and his bride. Chris has been stationed in McHenry, Miss., where the Atchesons live, but has received his transfer to a New Jersey camp for European duty with the air force. The young people of the community arranged a picnic up the Chetco honoring Chris and his bride. He wishes to express his thanks and appreciation for this courtesy, in the Pilot.

Local Teacher Was Wed Sunday P. M.

carried a nosegay of pastel sweet peas and baby breath, and each wore a halo of sweet peas.

The flower girl was Diana Carson, dressed in yellow floor length taffeta dress and carried a basket of rose petals. The ring bearer was little Tommy Buttrick.

The groom was attended by his friend, Norris Anderson, as best man. Ushers were J. W. Hall and Wm. Tufts.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Tyler, wore a blue-gray spun taffeta 2-piece suit with white accessories and wore a gardenia corsage.

Following the wedding at the church a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maris on Hwy 101, where congratulations were extended by their many friends. The rooms of the Maris home were decorated with baskets of white summer flowers. The white lace-covered table was centered by the oblong three-tier bride's cake, topped with white Margarets and Smilax, running across the cake to the table with a miniature bride and groom beside the cake, on the table.

The cake was cut by the bride and groom and served with coffee and punch.

After viewing the many wedding presents the new Mr. and Mrs. Gray left on their honeymoon trip north.

The bride's going-away suit was navy blue and pink accessories. On their return they will be at home to their friends at Cabin 11 at Tyler's State Line Motel.

The bride taught home economics at Brookings high last year, and will continue next year.

Bible School Was Successful Event

With 146 pupils enrolled, and an average daily attendance of 118, the 1952 Daily Vacation Bible School closed last Friday evening with a program at Baptist Community church.

Some outstanding work was accomplished in all departments. JoAnn Vincent, head of the art department, supervised two little puppet shows, with Biblical characters that the children presented at the program.

The teachers worked diligently to make the 1952 school about the most successful. Much credit goes to them for their patience and friendly attitude. Parents co-operated splendidly. Mrs. Jeanette Pierce told the Pilot.

Port Orford Wants 'Sing' Chapter Too

The local group of SEEBSSQA, and wives, will go to Gasquet on Wednesday evening as guests of the Crescent City chapter. Lots of vocals and good eats will be on the program of the evening—and early morning.

Once a singer gets in tune, it seems difficult to put on the brakes and since every listener is anxious to hear more, no one wants to bring such enjoyment to an end.

June 15, the local group went to Port Orford to sing for Battle Rock celebration, at the invitation of officials, and made such a hit that a delegation from that city visited the local chapter on Monday, at its weekly session, being imbued with the "spirit." The local group has been asked to be sponsors of a chapter at Port Orford.
