Black Sox Trounce Beavers Twice

The Drain Black Sox gave ample proof to Brookings fans Sunday why they are on top in Southwestern Oregon league play by trouncing the Beavers twice, 7 to 0 and 8 to 2.

Jerry Cade, promising Linfield college lefty, gave the Beavers only 5 scattered hits, two each by Murray Via and Jerry Mason and one by Bill Wallace. Jim Nierman went the route for Brookings, allowing 9 hits with none for extra bases but 6 errors were responsible for a number of unearned runs.

Manager Roy Helser of Portland Beaver fame took the mound for his Black Sox in the 2nd game and while giving up 9 hits, he was mighty tough in the clutch. Singles by Don Karns and Whitey Matson, plus an error gave the Beavers a run in the 2nd. The only other Brookings tally came in the 7th as Wally Maciel was safe on an error and then scored on Jerry Mason's double. Frank Burdell, Don Karns and Bob Chapman lead the Beavers at the plate with 2 hits each.

Don Clausen pitched hitless ball for Brookings in the first two frames but ex-leaguer Bill Beard touched him for a solo homer in the 3rd. Drain scored again in the 4th as walks to Pat Wohlers and Norval Ritchey became runs on Mel Krause's double. Harvey Storey doubled in the 5th with 2 down but was left stranded.

Clausen tired in the 5th. Ron Phillips, as first up, got a life on an error and two tallies were in on Mel Krause's home run. Helser then singled and also scored on Ad Rutschman's 4-ply swat across the road. Wally Maciel came in from 2nd base as relief and gave up another run on a hit batsman, a walk and a single but retired the side in order in the 7th.
