

CHROME, COPPER MINED LOCALLY

Mining claim forms for filing and developing chrome and copper prospects near Vulcan Peak were given out to several residents this week.

Prospecting has been going on for some time in the Chetco River headwaters vicinity and Fred Gardner, who with his sons have claims, says that road building now being done will allow a large amount of 50% chrome to be marketed soon. Nick Baumgarten, Louie Stoller and others have filed claims in that area.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the people of Brookings and particularly the Fire Dept. for their efforts during the fire at the planing mill—Westwood Co.

'Baby, It's Going To Be Cold Outside'

Blonde and beautiful Gloria Van Deweel, now reigning as Miss Anti-Freeze, is busy these days reminding motorists to have the proper type and amount of anti-freeze installed in their cars to withstand the rigors of winter driving. Proper preparation of the cooling system for cold weather service will save many dollars in repair bills. Miss Van Deweel is currently featured in the Broadway hit musical, "Wish You Were Here."

Everett Isenhart Cattleman of Year

Everett Isenhart of Langlois has been selected as the Cattleman of the year in Curry County by a committee of the Curry Livestock Association. This is a contest sponsored by the Oregon Cattlemen's Association, in which each County Livestock Association selects one of their members to represent their County as Cattleman of the year.

Mr. Isenhart operates a twelve hundred and eight acre ranch in the Langlois district, with his wife, a daughter and two sons. They purchased the ranch in 1941. His ranch now carries sixty head of brood cows and calves and two hundred head of sheep.

Mr. Isenhart is carrying on a continual ranch development progress through re-seeding, clearing, fence building, weed control, and through the use of nitrogen and phosphate fertilizers, he also practices some rotation on his grazing land.

In addition to the livestock which he is producing he also produces his own hay for winter feeding, and estimates that in his district it takes about five hundred pounds of hay per animal to carry them through the winter feeding program. Hay is cut at half bloom and is stored loose in the barns for winter feeding.

This year Mr. Isenhart was one of the first to adopt the aerial spraying for brush control and sprayed about two hundred acres of brush land with 2-4-D and 2-4-5-T. This will be seeded when the area can be successfully burned.

OPPORTUNITY OFFERED

There is an opportunity for interested and qualified young individuals to learn to be x-ray technicians in this area. Dr. Donald Bauer of Coos Bay, Oregon has a teaching program outlined for this medical specialty. One may either take a short course or spend more time in the process of learning and become a qualified x-ray technician. Anyone interested may contact either Dr. Bauer directly or they may secure further information through Dr. Paul Ronniger, of Brookings. Here is a rare opportunity for interested individuals. Dr. Bauer is qualified as a specialist in diagnostic roentgenology and in radiation therapy and has a fully equipped x-ray office in Coos Bay.

Local News

Pat and Ben Kerns have the right idea when it comes to getting work done. Sunday a group of friends assisted in putting up the patio enclosure and wielding the paint brushes. It is reported that Pat is a good cook which may account for the willingness of the guests. The early part of the week cement for the curbing was poured which will later be filled with asphalt.

Mrs. August Burmeister plans to return to Bend with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burmeister and family and make her home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burmeister will drive to Council Bluffs, Iowa, to make arrangements of the burial of August Burmeister.
