

SMITH RIVER

Mrs. Eva Hill was the guest of honor at the home of her son and family Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crockett near Harbor, Ore. at a dinner party. Mrs. Hill celebrated her 86th birthday on October 3rd and is enjoying fair health for her age. Following the bountiful dinner the beautiful decorated birthday cake was cut and served. Her two great grand daughters Donna Mae and Cindy Freeman, small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Freeman sang Happy Birthday. Mrs. Hill received many gifts, flowers and cards extending birthday greetings.

The home of Mrs. Nelita Kamp was the scene of an enjoyable party on Monday afternoon honoring Mrs. Lawn and her sister Mrs. Stuart of Hollister who have spent two months visiting Mrs. Lawn's son and family Mr. and Mrs. Art Lawn. Visiting and a social time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kamp, assisted by May Crook and Eunice Faris. Guests included Ruth Raymond, Jackie Yarbough, Mildred Lake, Virginia Bowie, Betty Eagles, Eleanor Layman, Mabel Maris, Ann Blankenship, Ada Hursh, Henrietta Woodruff, Agnes Maris, Evelyn Reichlin, Alyce Bolick, Lucille Lawn and Ada Nelson.

Mrs. Lucy Martin, age 81, had the misfortune to fall recently in the Smith River Coffee Shop. She injured her hip in the fall and was taken to Seaside Hospital by ambulance, where she is getting along satisfactory with her hip in a cast.

The Smith River Sunday School are having a food sale on Saturday afternoon, October 18 at Westbrook's Market. Sale opens at 1:00 p.m. Proceeds will be used to help purchase a piano or organ for the church. There will be plenty of home cooked food on sale.

Chester Crook, government trapper for predatory animals, caught a large bear first of the week on the Eva McNamara ranch in Elk Valley. The bear had been living on apples on this ranch and was good and fat.

Mrs. Robert Minear and children of Medford, Oregon, is spending several days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maris also her grand mother, Mrs. Agnes Maris.

'Wood-shedding'

By Ol Speb

Sure had a good turnout of Barbershoppers Monday night, plus several guests. Went over a couple of the old songs then worked on a few of the new ones. We're getting some pretty good songs whipped into shape.

After giving the chorus members a going over we did a little "woodshedding", which is a lot of fun. If you don't know what woodshedding is, it's picking a quartet at random. Then they get up and try to put a song together in the barbershop harmony style. That's when you hear some of the notes that are between the keys been under construction for several months by Frank Endert, will soon be finished and open to the public. The interior is being finished and fountain equipment being installed this week.

on the piano. Oh! yes, it sends shivers up your back.

The "Tommy" Thompsons were the "open house" hosts for the gang Monday night. They are giving up the "Hearthstone", so invited the barbershoppers over for pie, coffee and one last song fest. I know the rest of the barbershoppers, along with myself, want to think them.

A rather timely remark was overheard the other day—"I'd walk a mile to save a penny to park where I used to go hunting."
