

For What It's Worth.

By CLIFFORD P. ROWE

Last week we published our prize winning letter for the Democrats; the following is the one we selected as best among those of the other party.

THE CASE FOR REPUBLICANS

Governor Stevenson as a man is surely honest, courageous, courteous and honorable. He would grace, not disgrace, the office of president. But on several counts he should not be elected.

First, he is inexorably tied to the organization that has permeated the government with corruption and communism. He is compelled to run on the Truman record, which smells to the high heavens, and to compromise with it if elected.

Secondly, his fiscal policy, like that of the so-called Fair Deal, lacks present logic and future responsibility. Permanent prosperity based on continuous borrowing is impossible. "We never had it so good" could be achieved temporarily by any individual unwise enough to mortgage his property and go on a spending spree.

The governor says 85 per cent of our budget goes for past, present and future defense, and that to reduce it would be dangerous. This ignores two obvious facts: that it can be reduced by eliminating well-known wastefulness, and that the best assurance of an effective defense at least cost would be under the leadership of one like General Eisenhower with his wide experience and conspicuous success in that field.

To get sound domestic economy, elect the man who believes in prosperity with solvency. To get good foreign relations, elect the man with wide and favorable acquaintance abroad. Elect the man who really believes in our constitutional Federal system, thus helping to assure the continuance of American freedom "when, like our sires, our sons are gone."

W. L. ARANT,
Forest Grove.

Local News

Lorraine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Rowley, celebrated her third birthday Wednesday with a dinner in her honor prepared and served by "Peggy" Knee. Arthur Russell, who is visiting his nephew, Dwain Rowley and family, was also present.

Mrs. "Peggy" Knee had word from her husband that he shot a 200-pound buck last week in the Hendry mountain region near his farm in South Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Lines of Denver, who came to visit the Bob Phillips family earlier this month, went to Dunsmuir, Calif., on Sunday. From there they will go to Phoenix, Ariz., before returning home. Mr. Lines is a brother of Mrs. Phillips.

Extension Service Leader Outlines New PMA Plans

A new procedure which farmers must follow in signing up for conservation practice payments for 1953 has been ordered by the U.S. department of agriculture, according to J. R. Beck, Oregon State college extension representative of the state production marketing association.

The change, Beck said, requires a new step in filing for next year payments and must be completed before the end of December. He advised all Oregon farmers wishing to file for payments to begin now in setting up their 1953 programs.

In order for a farmer to qualify for agricultural conservation program practice payments during 1953, he must file a list before December 31, 1952, of the practices he wishes to follow next year. This list should be submitted to the county PMA committee and must show the practices in order of their priority, Beck explained.

Show windows are being installed at Conn-Olson Motors, West Brookings, this week.
