HOPE

To "WILLIE"

To choose what we would, for Eternity
We're here for but a little while at best;
And then, when God, our choice doth ratify
He bids us lay down in peace to rest.
We sorrow not as others, without hope,
When loved ones to their resting place descend;
The psalmist said, "My flesh shall rest in hope,
Wherefore take courage, and hope 'til the end."
Many there be that perish without hope,
For hope deferred maketh the heart to faint.
Go! Cheer thy brother with a word of Hope.
Hope bringeth sweet relief to all complaints.
With hope and courage press on to the goal;
I would that all would the great lesson learn.
In hope we have an anchor to the soul;
When hope wanes low, all else to ashes turn.
If you would cause another to have hope
And help regain his confidence today,
There is laid up for you that blessed hope,
A crown of life that fadeth not away.
J. G. Gallagher.
