CURRY FAIR BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Curry County Fair Board held its regular monthly meeting Monday night in the county agent's office at Gold Beach. All three members of the fair board, Leo Lucas, Harbor; Ollie Farquson, Cold Beach, and C. H. Brooks, Langlois, were present. The manager, Kenneth Thompson, Secretary Ellen Daugherty, County Agent Cliff Jenkins and Home Demonstration Agent Sylvia Lee completed the official gathering.

The Chetco Wranglers were represented by Ed Thornton, Arnold and Walter Morris and the Pomona Grange queen committee consisting of Kathryn Reekman, Marion Brooks and Bea Phipps were present, as was George Ma-teir.

Letters were read from 4-H members stating their qualifications and reasons for asking for the beef calves to be given by Herb Morrell, Langlois, and Geo. Burr of Coquille under the direction of the fair board. The winners selected were Glen Waggoner of Elk River and Jannette Crump of Harbor.

The Chetco Wranglers made a report on the results of their participation in the fair last year and wanted to know the fair board's wishes for the coming year. They have purchased 4 1/2 acres within walking distance of Harbor and are getting the ground leveled in preparation for the building of rodeo grounds and buildings and a community building. They are planning for another year and expect great cooperation than they had this last year.

The queen committee has been appointed by Pomona Grange at the request of the fair board to plan and handle the coronation of the queen and all activities pertaining to the princesses and queen during the fair.
