

Local News Happenings About Folks You Know

Dr. Stevenson is expecting his niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Ayers, and her husband to arrive from Minneapolis, Minn., this week. The doctor hopes they will find the locality to their liking and make their home here with him.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Holmes of Portland arrived on Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Jones through the new year. The Holmes own property on the Dawson tract

Members of the Masonic lodge and wives attended Baptist Community church in a group Sunday evening for the annual St. John's Day service. Rev. J. L. Mumbrow delivered the message and Mrs. George Mosier sang "Whispering Hope," accompanied by her daughter Janet.

Mrs. Eva Lee Long and Mrs. Clara Kerns returned Sunday from Klamath Falls after spending Christmas with relatives. Mrs. Long visited in the home of her son, Merel, and family. They reported some ice and snow on roads which made traveling slow. Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Stunz and three daughters, of Boise, Idaho, are visiting this week at the home of his sister, Mrs. Dewey Akers, and family.

Mrs. Edith Ackley is spending the holidays with her sister at San Jose, Calif. She went by bus. Miss Sharley Masten, Klamath Falls, returned with the Ben Kerns family after they had spent Christmas there. Miss Masten is Mrs. Kerns' sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose of the Smart Shop completed the sale of their entire stock of women's ready-to-wear as well as the shop fixtures the first of the week, and left for Portland, their former home, on Tuesday.

Les Dimmick rescued a cocker spaniel left on Mill beach and will give it to someone needing a pet.

Mrs. Mildred Ford will assist at the Redfield store as checker, beginning immediately after Christmas

A sad example of the doubtful progress of the human race was the natural deduction of pupils in one of Portland's grade schools before Christmas. When the children sang the old familiar song the teachers experienced shock. Children who had apparently never heard of "bobtails," substituted a more familiar word and sang the line like this: "Bells on cocktails ring, making spirits bright."

New Year's Eve candlelight services will be held at the Baptist Community church from 11:30 to 12 o'clock Dec. 31. Members of the church, their friends and people of the community are invited to attend this watch service.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schmeer left Sunday morning for their home in Portland after visiting a number of days in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whirry and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Grayshel. Mrs. Schmeer is a sister of Mrs. Whirry and Mrs. Grayshel.

M. M. Jaklewicz is quite miserable at his home suffering with a case of flu and complications resulting from a broken nose. The accident happened a couple of weeks ago when Mr. Jaklewicz was tightening binder chains on a load of logs. Plans to spend Christmas in Washington were interrupted by his illness.

The Chetco Choral club will resume rehearsals Monday evening, Jan. 12, at the high school at 7:30. Mrs. Lee Rice, director, announces that the chorus is open for new members and practice will be started on members that will be sung for U.T.A. meeting in February.

How'm I Doing

A happy-but-fighting spirit, characteristic of thousands of youngsters travelling the come-back road after polio, is reflected in the chubby face of three-year-old Janice De Young. She's recovering with March of Dimes help at a convalescent home in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Edwin B. Stark, who recently joined the Navy, would like to hear from his friends. His address is: Edwin B. Stark, S.R. 440-22-46, Co. 52-0929, U.S.N.T.C., San Diego 33, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Knee of the Harbor vicinity are celebrating Christmas at their ranch in Utah, near Bryce canyon.

'Auld Lang Syne' Integral Part Of New Year's Fete

"Auld Lang Syne" has become such an integral part of our modern New Year's eve that no celebration, however gay, would be complete without it.

The music sheets for those nostalgic strains simply say "Robert Burns—Scotch Air," and Robert Burns generally is supposed to have written it after he had settled down on a farm and taken himself a wife, following the sweeping success in 1778 of the second edition of his "Poems." Well and good, but Auld Lang Syne was not exclusively a Burns product, nor did he claim it to be.

In a letter to George Thomson, a publisher, Burns explained: "It is an old song of olden times, which has never been in print. I took it down from an old man's singing."

Modern scholarship has discovered that Burns was wrong when he told Thomson "Auld Lang Syne" never had been in print. Its refrain, at least, was printed obscurely long before Burns heard his "old man singing."

Further, the original song often has been credited to Sir Robert one of the earliest Scots to use Aytoun (1570-1638). Aytoun was the lowland dialect as a literary medium. Multitudes of Americans descended from non-British stock are perpetually mystified by this dialect, nor does it seem to make much sense in the standard English translation.

Regardless of its original author and origin, it was Burns who gave "Auld Lang Syne" its immortality.

"I will wish you," wrote John Ruskin, "some new love of lovely things, and some new forgetfulness of the teasing things, and some higher pride in the praising things, and some sweeter peace from the hurrying things, and some closer fence from the worrying things."

Let that be my New Year's wish for you also.

God bless you, everyone.
