About Folks You Know

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Clark who left Brookings a couple of years ago, have returned to make their home here after traveling over a great portion of the United States. Mr. Clark is now affiliated with the C. O. & L. L. Leonard Real Estate & Insurance Agency.

Mrs. Ed McClain entertained the ministers of the city at an early morning breakfast last Thursday. Those present were, Dr. Charles Durden, Baptist Community church; Rev. W. J. Spencer, Assembly of God church; Rev. Hugh Bronson, Presbyterian church; Rev. Manson McCall, Seventh-Day Adventist; Father Hamilton, Catholic church; Rev. Ernest Bartlam, Episcopal church (ret.), and her husband, Rev. Ed McClain of the Brookings Bible church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Low were down from Salem over the holidays, guests of the Warren Smiths. Charles and Edith lived here for some years and have many friends in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson and family have moved back to their former home in Portland. Andy has been office manager for Fox Brothers' trucking outfit, the family, especially the children, will be missed.

The Earl Eichenberrys hauled their trailer house from Pine street to Glendale, where Earl has a job. He's keeping his foot on the Brookings lot just the same.

With all the favorable publicity, most quite true, that this area is getting it must be embarrassing for folks who move away from Brookings to explain why they did so.

Caroline Kerr of Portland visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kerr during the holidays.

Mrs. O. H. Normand and small daughter are reported in England, arriving in time for the coronation.

Applications for loans from the state veterans' bureau continue in all its phases, bringing many thousands of dollars into the community for homes and ranches.

A noticeable oversight in the whole weekend doin's was lack of display of our flag at the schoolhouse and especially at the park. The last state legislature passed a law requiring every school in the state to fly not only the national colors but also the Oregon state flag. It would be nice if they included our parks, especially during the busy festive seasons.

Earl Dodge is teaching square dancing at the VFW hall every Tuesday evening, with just enough couples to make up two squares at a time. Earl, who has taught classes in the Los Angeles country, says this is all that can be properly taught and plans to run two classes as soon as the first one becomes proficient. All the cost is the prorated hall rent, Earl making no charge for his services. Anyone interested might contact Mr. Dodge or show up around 7:30 Tuesday evening at the hall.

Melody Brimm and Joy Gott accompanied Cliff Brimm home Saturday where they will visit at the Rogue river ranch until Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brimm, Byron and Jimmy Campbell will go for them. The boys will remain for a vacation until Jamboree time later this month. The boys are looking forward to helping Mr. Brimm with haying.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hurst were happy to have their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, home but were not enthusiastic about the forced vacation that Mr. Smith has started.

He is not well and will not be able to resume work for a couple of weeks.

Publicity has really been coming Oregon way of late. Have you seen the cover and extensive write-up in June Holiday? Very nice. French Arrell still has some of the Sunday Journal Farm and Garden sections of May 24 which gave the azaleas of southern Oregon, the park and festival front page publicity. Elwood Coslett donated the extra papers to the Cub Scouts. If you want one or more of these papers you will automatically help the Cubs.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emil W. Mitchell were Mr. and Mrs. Keith McLeon and son, Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Magee and Mrs. Dickerson, Grants Pass.

Meda Cooley of Eureka and sister, Clara Turner, of Hydesville, Calif., are visiting Douglas Cooley and wife for a week or more.

Mrs. Mildred Byrne returned Monday after a weekend visit with her mother who is in a convalescent home in Portland. Joanne, after finishing the spring term at University of Arizona, met her mother in Portland and returned to Brookings with her. Miss Byrne will help in the Brookings Water Co. office, taking the position recently vacated by Joan Fadling.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowe, Salem, former residents, were guests in the Warren Smith home over the weekend holidays.

Woodsmen, from all indications, are making up for lost time. Truck load after truck load of beautiful logs are seen passing through Brookings. The dimensions of these fine looking logs are good enough to impress any lumberman.

Westwood Co., Easy street, is building onto the office to give needed room for office work and records.

Mrs. Bud Rausch is home after an extended visit with relatives in the middle west.

Mrs. Cole, new owner of Mildred's beauty salon, took her daughter, Roberta, to Medford for medical care last Saturday. Roberta is recovering from injuries resulting from a car accident March 18.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rue and son Alvin, Dayton, paused momentarily in Brookings Saturday on their way south. They were in a hurry and were sorry not to visit friends.

Samples of water from the well drilled at Lake Pleasant Plywood Co., Inc., Harbor, were sent to the State Health department for analysis Saturday by Gordon Asp, plant superintendent.

Services will be held at Roeder Funeral Home, Crescent City, today at 2 o'clock for Arlie Cecil Thompson, who passed away Monday, June 1, 1953 at Harbor, Oregon. Interment will be at Smith River cemetery. Mr. Thompson, 73 years, 11 months, passed away suddenly after a heart attack.
