

PROMINENT SDA OFFICERS TO BE SPEAKERS AT CHURCH DEDICATION

The Brookings Seventh-Day Adventist congregation will dedicate its new church at 3:30 p.m., Saturday, June 13. The building is completed and landscaping accomplished in readiness for the consecration service.

The service will be in the main auditorium, with Elder C. A. Scriven, president of the North Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, as the speaker. He will be assisted in the service by Elder J. C. Kozel, secretary-treasurer of the North Pacific Union Conference, and Elder L. E. Biggs, president of the Oregon Conference, according to Manson Metcalf, local pastor.

The church choir, directed by Mrs. G. P. Christensen, will sup-

Sabbath school will be conducted at 9:30 by Karl Ostberg, Sabbath school superintendent. Seventh-Day Adventist adults as well as young people take part as a regular phase of their Sabbath devotions. The 11 o'clock devotional service will be presented by Elder L. E. Biggs.

"Our friends, neighbors and all who so desire are most cordially invited to attend either or both of these services," said Pastor Metcalf.

ply the musical background, being accompanied by Mrs. Willard Graham and Miss Gladys Robison. A historical sketch of the Seventh-Day Adventist organization of this area will be presented. Mrs. Cecil Watt is chairman of the committee preparing this report. A note of interest is that the denomination operates 4,438 schools along with its churches, publishing houses and medical institutions throughout the world. Prior to the dedicatory service,
