

Local News Happenings About Folks You Know

Manson Metcalf is in Milo, Ore., attending a ministerial workers' meeting at the site of the new S.D.A. boarding academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Shepherd left Wednesday morning for Portland to attend the Rose Festival.

Gladys Kindel, who is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kindel, received a phone call from them on Sunday evening. They were in Los Angeles and going over into Mexico. From there they will go north to national parks along the great divide of the Rockies.

Mrs. Bill Williams and Mrs. Mays of Crescent City recently visited the Musser home and did a little shopping here. The extension to the Chevron station is complete except for interior painting. The added space was greatly needed to give the service Ed and Mendy want to give.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Moore, Medford, stopped over Tuesday night with their daughter and family, Erma Avis Cole, on their way from Tacoma. They took their grandchildren fishing Wednesday. Mrs. Cole is the new owner of the beauty shop formerly known as Mildred's Beauty Salon.

Mrs. "Bert" White drove to Medford on Wednesday where she will pick up her daughter Bettie, who has been attending Southern Oregon college, and ship the registered Bedlington dog she recently sold to Seattle residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Kindel and Jackie went south this week to begin a month's tour of national parks and a trip into Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hendricks, Gerald, Nancy, and Grandma Merrill have gone to Portland for the Rose Festival and will attend a wedding in Salem on Sunday, June 14. Mrs. Merrill will remain in Portland for some time.

Nine-year-old Warren Cole caught a two-pound perch Wednesday off the shore and his grandpa Moore stood by to help land the scrappy prize. The Moores are on their way home to Medford after attending the graduation of a son in Tacoma, Wash.

Mrs. A. Sjostrom and Mrs. Ray Nelson and children have just returned from Portland where they visited with relatives and friends for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Schleisner of Boyes Hot Springs, near Sonoma, Calif., returned to Brookings on Monday to transact business in connection with real estate they own here. They are former residents and Nellie will be remembered as one of the local post office staff.

Mrs. E. L. Graham, whose home is on Pioneer Road, was taken to Crescent City Monday night by ambulance, suffering from what seemed to be pneumonia.

Pat Herman is attending Girls State this week at Willamette University in Salem and will make a detailed report on her activities there when she returns at the end of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Wagner of Roseburg, parents of Miss La Von Wagner, elementary school teacher, spent the Festival weekend with her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Goldizen. She returned with them for the summer vacation and will again come to Brookings for the next school term.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred May, former residents of Brookings, have returned to the area to make their home. They have been living in Escondido, Calif., and are now temporarily at the home of Doctor Stevenson.

Miss Karen Simpson is visiting relatives in Portland where she saw the Coronation by television, and will take in the Rose Festival.

Mrs. Ralph (Mary) Wallace is recuperating from major surgery in the Grants Pass hospital.

In a report of operations to the Saudi Arab government by the Arabian American Oil Co., the centerspread is devoted to the eulogy of the late Max W. Stienke, who, for many years, was chief geologist of the company, and who died last year. The text, in English and Arabic, beneath a splendid picture of him, gives him credit for much of the oil development in Arabia. Max has many friends among the older residents, having grown up here with his family, among whom remaining known hereabouts are his sister, Mrs. Frieda Ransom, and brother, Walter. The only other portrait in the booklet is that of the king of Saudi Arabia.
