

Brookings Beavers Swamped Twice

Brookings' Beavers ran into a buzz-saw at Coquille over the week-end as the greatly strengthened Loggers won both games by scores of 15 to 2 and 10 to 5.

Corky Coleman, just reporting from the Oregon State varsity, was driven from the mound in the first inning of the Saturday night tilt. Manager Jim Lowman took over and Logger catcher Dick Allison promptly hit into a double play to end the round. Lowman got by the second and third without any damage but the Coquille sluggers tagged him for two tallies in the fourth and another three in the fifth before Jim Barrett came in from right field to put out the fire by retiring the next two batters. Coquille got seven more runs in the 6th, 7th and 8th but to Barrett's credit it must be said that only one was earned. Ex-Coast leaguer Joe Mishasek was meanwhile holding the Beavers to 2 runs on 5 hits, two by Ken Kimura, two by Jay Dean, giant first baseman from Oregon State, and one by shortstop Jack Selby.

The Sunday fray was a fine game for six innings with Jim Nierman making his first mound start of the season for the Beavers. However, Nierman's wildness and two Beaver errors allowed the game to get out of hand as the Loggers tallied seven runs in the last two innings. Only five of the 10 Coquille runs were classed as earned. The Beavers nicked pitcher "Oak" Henderson, another ex-pro, for 10 hits but could only break through for a brace of runs in the sixth and eighth and a lone tally in the ninth. Frank Burdell, Jay Dean and Dick Price led the Sunday attack with two hits each.

The Coos Bay-North Bend team comes to Brookings for a double header this coming Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The Lumber Jacks boast of at least 11 ex-professionals in their lineup and rate as one of the strongest semi-pro clubs ever assembled in the state.

Short scores:

Brookings 110 000 000—2 5 4
Coquille .. 300 233 13*—15 17 1

Coleman, Lowman (1), Barrett (5) and Stephenson; Mishasek and Allison.

Second Game —

Brookings 000 002 021—5 10 2
Coquille .. 001 020 34*—10 10 4

Nierman and Stephenson; Henderson and Allison.

SW OREGON STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Drain .....	5	1	.833
Coquille .....	3	2	.600
Coos Bay-No. Bend	2	2	.500
Bandon .....	2	2	.500
Roseburg .....	3	4	.428
Brookings .....	1	3	.250
Medford .....	1	3	.250

"To back the log truck, son, you first . . . ." Jack Curtis, safety director for Oregon Timber Transport Operators, would like to teach them this young to drive log trucks in Oregon but admits such a program would be rather impractical as tomorrow the young fellow would want to be a cowboy or a policeman instead. Curtis, however, has a great deal of information he would like to pass on to log truck drivers of this area at a safety conference here Tuesday, June 23, 8 p.m. at Fox Brothers Logging company shop. All drivers and operators of the Brookings area are invited to attend. A movie, "Hauling Logs", will be shown.

TREE SWALLOW

By E. LAURENCE PALMER

The swallows are a group of birds about which it is easy to write in superlatives. The swallows of El Capistrano manage to hit the front pages of newspapers across the continent each spring. We have the saying that one swallow does not make a spring and if you happen to be in a barn or around a boat house when Barn Swallows are building their nests, you are likely to get a new interpretation of what is meant by 'here's mud in your eye.'

Tree Swallows congregate in great numbers, usually in marshes, just prior to the southern fall migration. One day they are in an area in abundance; the next day they are gone. There was a time when people believed that they vanished because the swallows turned into frogs only to reverse the process in the spring. Since the Tree Swallows may well be the first swallow to arrive in the spring, they may be responsible for the saying that one swallow does not make a spring.

The Tree Swallows are relatively easily recognized because of their immaculately white under parts and their steely blue-black or greenish-black backs. Their tails are forked but not so deeply as is the case in the Barn Swallows and Purple Martins.

Brookings Harbor Pilot 11
THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1953

The length of a Tree Swallow is about 6 1/4 inches; of a Barn Swallow, 7 1/4 inches; of a Cliff Swallow, 6 inches, and of a Purple Martin, 8 1/2 inches. In comparison, therefore, the Tree Swallow may be considered a relatively small swallow.

Tree Swallows breed from northwestern Alaska to southern California and east to north Quebec and Virginia. They winter from Central California to North Carolina and south to Honduras, Mexico and Cuba, these limits being general rather than specific. During the winter the birds are south, the young birds of the year are more grayish than blue above and the throat is not the clear white so attractive in the mature birds.

Tree Swallows nest readily in bird boxes or in tree cavities. A nesting colony may be of considerable size. The nest has a grass lining and is abundantly supplied with feathers. The 4 to 10 rosy-white eggs are approximately 4/5 by 9/16 inches in size and are incubated by both sexes for two weeks. Two broods may be raised in a season and two females may occupy the same nest, all of which should lead to interesting interpretations of the family life.

Tree Swallows are great insect eaters but may eat more plant food than most swallows. They are known to feed on the berries of the Virginia creeper and the fruits of red cedar. They are almost as valuable in an agricultural sense as are the Barn Swallows. Their beauty to me is such as to place them in top rank but beauty is a variable feast fortunately and there are those who can justly differ with that statement.

BAPTIST COMMUNITY CHURCH

Hear Dr. Charles Durden

SERVICES FOR SUNDAY, JUNE 21

11 a.m.—Father's Day Service:

"THE PARENTS' GREATEST LOSS"

8:00 p.m.—"THE FINE ART OF NEIGHBORLINESS"

The Public Cordially Invited.

CHURCH VACATION SCHOOL STARTS MONDAY

BEAVER BATS

	AB	H	Pct.
Staab .....	10	6	.600
Dean .....	8	4	.500
Price .....	16	6	.375
Selby .....	16	5	.313
Chapman .....	4	1	.250
Monello .....	17	4	.235
Burdell .....	18	4	.222
Lowman .....	9	2	.222
Kimura .....	14	3	.214
Barrett .....	16	2	.125
Western .....	2	0	.000
Kezzely .....	2	0	.000
Nierman .....	4	0	.000
Clingman .....	4	0	.000
Stephenson .....	8	0	.000
Team Average .....	148	37	.250

Thank You...

for the help you gave us in preparing for the opening and for all "bouquets sent our way."

We were very happy to see the people we know visit Hi-Way Market and to welcome any newcomers.

Says Hank: "We really appreciate the fact that you appreciate having a new market in this Community."

VAUGHNS AND WILBANKS

Hi-Way Market

N. W. Brookings

Highway 101

Curb Service on Weekends

We are happy to welcome Hi-Way Market to this area.

DAIRY CREAM

Hi-Way 101

N.W. Brookings

Hersch and Jessie Chaney