GOV. PATTERSON TO LEAD PARADE AT LILY FESTIVAL

Honorable Paul L. Patterson, governor, will be here to celebrate Lily Blossom Time with us on Sunday, July 19. Mrs. Patterson and his mother will accompany him.

Mrs. Arthur Knox, personal friend of the Governor was able to entice him to this section of Oregon since he was not able to come for the Azalea Festival.

The All Year Events Association Committees have been arranged for the reviewing stand to be in front of the Central Building. The Governor's car will come directly after the band, led by the colors.

As of last year the parade will form at the crossroad near Don's Cliff House, proceed towards town on Highway 101 and disperse near Beaver State Lodge. Leading the parade will give the Governor and party a chance to get to the reviewing platform to enjoy the procession.

Plans are being made to have some function so that people may have an opportunity to meet Governor and Mrs. Patterson and mother.

Ben Turner Called by Death

Kindly Ben Turner of Harbor passed away very suddenly on Monday, July 6 at 4 p.m. at the Lyle Redfield Sr. home, south of the state line. He had accompanied Mr. Redfield home after the closing of the market and been greeted by Mrs. Redfield, saying he felt fine. A few minutes later on coming out of the house Mr. and Mrs. Redfield found him on the ground and called Dr. White. He passed away before the doctor arrived. He was 69 years of age.

He had been a seaman for 35 years before coming to Brookings to grow lilies, and had been in most of the ports of the world. His friends and neighbors say he was "the salt of the earth."

Mr. Turner was born in Faunslow Herson England and has a sister and family there.

Memorial services will be held at the Community Baptist church Friday at 2 p.m. Interment in William James Ward Memorial cemetery.

Chuck's Flying "A" Associated Service Station is open for business at this time but is planning for a formal opening next week end. The exact date will be announced in the next issue.

ROOMS NEEDED FOR LILY BLOSSOM TIME

Courts and hotels will not be able to accommodate all visitors to Brookings through Lily Blossom Time and those having rooms to let are asked to register them with Louise Ostenberg. Phone 2661 immediately.

Back Burns From Boiling Hot Coffee

Martha Musser, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hill, on the Henry Payne place suffered back burns Monday just before the dinner hour. Coffee that was brewing on the stove poured out of the top portion of the maker onto the 5-year-old girl, when it tipped over.

She was brought to town by her grandparents and since both doctors were out she was taken to Gold Beach by ambulance driven by Leo Lucas since Roy Brown was out of town.

Martha returned home Tuesday with the recommendation that she return later for treatment.

Merle Fay Maloan Passes July 4

Merle Fay Maloan passed away on July 4 in Brookings. He was born at Beaver Falls Ill., March 6, 1902.

As a young man he moved to Los Angeles and worked as a retail salesman for various companies.

In June 1950 he moved to Brookings and was an employe of the plywood mill at the time of his death. His doctor had been treating him for a heart ailment the past year.

Known survivors were a son Donald M. and a daughter Frances.

The Brown Mortuary took the body to Grants Pass on Monday afternoon. It was shipped to Pittsburg, Kansas.

PARADE PLANS IN LAST STAGE

Although 25 firms have signed up to enter floats in the Lily Blossom Time parade, more are welcome and encouraged to enter. Organizations, lily growers, teenagers and comics are also to be represented which will be interspersed by bands. Outside entries have also been contacted and neighboring towns have accepted the invitations to enter floats. Al Phillips, chairman of comics division, says he needs more entries in that division.

Plenty of blooms will be available just by going after them. The lily growers are cooperating in giving of their flowers and are anxious to make this Lily Blossom Time better than ever.

Mrs. Clive Manley and Mrs. Karl Ostenberg are in charge of the housing. Anyone having an extra room that might be available for visitors should call Mrs. Ostenberg. Many more guests than can be taken care of by commercial methods will be present and must be given accommodations in private homes.

Camera Club Forming

A camera club is now forming for those fans who do their shooting with a camera. All those interested are invited to meet at the Brookings Studio Saturday, July 11, at 4 p.m. to organize.

Mr. Strong will be glad to advise and assist camera fans. All benefit from others' experiences. Members will be registered at the meeting.

Crowd Enjoyed Fireworks Display

A beautiful display of fireworks was enjoyed by residents of this community at the mouth of the Chetco on the evening of July Fourth.

This display was furnished by the Dimmick Brothers who did themselves proud in entertaining an extra large crowd for over one and one-half hours.

The crowds were handled by local law enforcement officers in a very commendable way.

Friends who saw the Klamath Falls display last year remarked they thought Brookings display was nicer.

Mrs. Ralph Vincent Hurt in Car Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vincent were victims of an automobile accident June 7. Blair (Mickey) when a truck ran into the rear of their car.

Mrs. Vincent suffered painful injuries to her neck and back and is in Emanuel hospital.

Salmon Expected In River Soon

Two salmon have been reported hooked near the mouth of the Chetco the last few days, reports John Hewitt of Parker's Anchorage, who also states that several have been seen rolling between the bridge and the mouth.

Some good strings of cutthroat have been taken and perch are easily caught by those not going after trout or salmon.

SCOUTS LEAVE FOR JAMBOREE TOMORROW

Imagine a city the size of Eugene and Springfield, Oregon combined springing up almost overnight right next door.

That's what will happen to the people of Santa Ana, Calif., next week when more than 50,000 Boy Scouts and their leaders, from all over the nation and the world, converge on the 3,000 acre Irvine ranch.

Of local interest is the fact that in the early hours of Friday morning will find 21 Boy Scouts from the Brookings-Harbor area up and stirring around, for at 6 a.m. they start for Eugene on the first part of their trip to the Jamboree. Going from Odd Fellows Troop 32 are Jerry Smith, Marvin Bullock, Ronald Bullock, Walter Craig, and Jimmy Widney. From Eagles Troop 222 are Danny Ames, Freddy Anderson, Dick Berger, Byron Brimm, Phillip Bonde, David Bushnell, Don Carter, Dale Crump, Bobby Dimmick, Dick Fading, Ronnie Falbert, Larry Hannan, Phillip Kessler, Ronnie Miller, Lee Wayne Ritchey and Larry Way, and Scoutmaster Howard Crane.

Freddy Anderson will join the troop at Eugene from Paisley, where his family spend the summer on their ranch. Ronald Miller will fly there from Spokane.

LOADED LOG TRUCKS AWAIT STRIKE SETTLEMENT

California Governor Earl Warren has sent representatives to the Eureka meeting today as a move to settle Humboldt County lumber and logging truck tie-up. State officials present are Commissioner Bernard Caldwell, California Highway Patrol and Deputy Director of Public Works Russell Munro.

Selected to represent this area are M. M. Jaklewicz and Ed Bittrick. These men were appointed at a meeting held in Crescent City yesterday afternoon.

This is the seventh day of the strike between logging and lumber truck operators and the California Highway Patrol over loading limits. Loaded trucks lined up one after another on the side of the roads or parked in an open field. In one case, "moved not a foot."

Business slow up in this area has been noticed as a result of the strike and should it continue mills would be closed down. At the "Y" near Crescent City it is estimated that there are almost a hundred loaded trucks parked and 250 giant rigs lined up and idle, at weighing stations at McKinleyville, Blue Lake and Alton.

This morning 14 huge trucks loaded ready for the signal were counted parked in town. Men are becoming impatient — even fishing no longer interests them.
