Chuck's Flying A Station Opens Fri.

"Chuck" Gray's Flying A Service Station at the corner of Oak Street and Chetco Avenue in the east part of Brookings will have its Grand Opening on Friday, July 17.

"Chuck" will give the ladies who call at his station a gift of a philodendron plant, candy is in store for the kiddies and smokes for the men.

Built of concrete and steel, with generous space for parking, the station is the very latest in service stops. The comfort and convenience of patrons and customers has been fully anticipated and rest rooms fitted accordingly.

"Chuck" is welcomed to the city as a new business operator.

Lucky Seven Club Alert and Helpful

The Lucky Seven Club recently organized among the boys of the Teen-Age group have Art Stone as their president, Bob Sandy, right hand man and Roy Dirks, Dick McGinnis, Albert Shuey, Dick Tantare and Ken McDonald as the fellows who lead the projects the group undertakes.

Lately this group has been repairing and replacing signs which had been damaged and torn down by a few thoughtless boys of the community. When interrogated these boys confessed to knowing they shouldn't have done it, but didn't have anything else to do and had become bored with movies as the only entertainment available in Brookings for young folk.

The Lucky Seven Club plans to enter a float in the Lily Parade. They plan constructive projects, one of which is to help in cleaning up the areas in William Ward Memorial Cemetery.

Don Webberly, policeman, is an honorary member and adviser. Members must be voted into membership.

ANNA McNABB ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McNabb announced the engagement of their daughter, Anna, to Oren Fackeral Sunday afternoon with an informal tea. The wedding date has not been set.

Ground Observers Meet Friday

A meeting of ground observers will be held at the I.O.O.F. hall tomorrow (Friday) night. An official from Oakland Filter will be present to show motion pictures of ground work. Leave your float building work long enough to attend this meeting is the wish of those wishing to get this work underway.

Field Coordinator Douglas Hayes, Crescent City, who is in charge of ground work of this region will also be present tomorrow evening.

The All Year Events Association wishes to remind proprietors and home owners to dress up their places with the lily in honor of the occasion.

Lily growers are asked to meet at Strowmen's place Saturday afternoon to work on the float.

Los Angeles and two children are visiting since Tuesday at the Bonn Motel and will be here over Sunday.
