

Just About Folks

Leaving Sunday morning for Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Guerrattaz of Harbor spent that night with relatives there and went on to Portland, on Monday for a week's stay. While there they will attend the national convention of C.P.A. and visit old friends in their former home city.

A summer guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don McCarton is Mrs. Ella Ollgard, "Aunt Ella," from Fresno, Calif. She arrived last week driving all alone in her little Crosley, proving that she is 80 years young. She thinks it cold here. It would be after the torrid heat of the California valleys.

Sergeant James (Jimmy) Carte and wife arrived in Brookings early Saturday morning and spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Bollinger. They are still at Merced, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. William Muncy have as their guests Mrs. Dora Wann, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson and three daughters of Tuolumne, Calif., who arrived Wednesday evening. Mrs. Wann is Mrs. Muncy's mother.

Mrs. Lydia Browman, Mrs. William Muncy, Mrs. Dewey Akers and August Johnson were guests Tuesday at the Whaleshead ranch where sheepshearing was in progress. Assisting Mrs. Warren McNeely in preparing the noon meal for the crew were Mrs. Glen Hurst and her mother, Mrs. Anna Clark and Mrs. Ruth Hassett. Later, after dinner the ladies and Mr. Johnson enjoyed a trip to the beach in a jeep driven by Mrs. Hurst.

Visiting at the home of F. E. "Bert" White the last few days were Mr. and Mrs. D. E. McQuestion of Phoenix, Arizona. The McQuestions thought Brookings beautiful, but were anxious to get back to their summer sunshine.

Choir School To Be Held Here

Harlyn Able, master of music, Portland, will hold a choir school in Brookings beginning August 20 through 23.

Mr. Able has had 20 years experience teaching music in colleges and has filled professional solo engagements on radio and in concert halls, coast to coast. He has conducted choirs in many of the major cities of the U. S. and was soloist for the Portland Symphonic Choir, in the Messiah and a student of several of the country's foremost vocal teachers.

These schools are being held in numerous communities and are a great help and incentive to all singers. Details will be given next week.

Mrs. Bernadine Steele returned last week from Reno where she attended a six weeks summer school session at the University of Nevada.

Raymond Reekman, AN USN, spent the weekend at his home, leaving early Sunday morning to return to San Francisco where his carrier, the Yorktown was scheduled to leave for an overseas tour of duty early Monday morning. He made the trip south as far as Ukiah with Averill Zook and his son who had spent the weekend in Brookings looking after their property there.

If you don't recognize the driver of the Chetco Taxi these days that is because the new driver and manager is Mrs. Betty Foster, who took over from the Mendehals the first of the week. It is planned to have two taxis in operation if there is enough demand for it.

BOWERS RETURN

Rev. and Mrs. Don Bowers, who have been serving in the Methodist Conference in North Dakota, made a surprise visit to the R. D. Rowley home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Bowers is a former member of the Evangelical church on the Lafayette field of the Oregon Conference.

They have been transferred to the California Conference and will be located at Klamath, not far south of the line. They have two sons, Don Jr. and Forrest, and a daughter Lareen.

Wranglers Say Horses Faster

A pair of Brookings Wranglers think their horses can beat a hard-top racer. . . and they've offered to prove it.

Wilson Freeman of the Wranglers has challenged any hard-top racer to a quarter-mile race during the Curry County Fair, which opens at Gold Beach August 21, and the indications are that someone will accept his offer.

Floyd Matlock has joined Freeman, saying that his horse Tony is just as good as Freeman's and gettier than any car.

No definite opponent is set yet, but the members of the Del Norte Timing Association are pretty certain they're not going to let the matter end there.
