

Chetco Wranglers

allowing their sloughing off to oblivion. . . among those seen, some handy enough to greet, Mrs. Ace Turner, Jigs Morse and Miss Elizabeth Caughell, Frank Carskadden, Heck and Dorothy, Vera Ismert, George and John Chenoweth, Ned Stearns, George and Vera Sutton, Marion and Juanita Bauer, Tom Moore, Phyllis, Willie, Arthur and Sid, of the Walkers, Mrs. Jess Ponting, Henry and Mrs. Henry Adolphson, the Larry Pinsons, Johnny Yak and his boy, Wilbur, Mrs. Fannie James, and lots and lots of faces that looked familiar but the names had slipped. . . Frank Smith, biking up and back on his putt-putt.

Gary Bolin, Winchuck HHHH, sure likes fairs, brought home a nice little wad of prize money and a lively white faced calf that he tussled for; moppet with mulberry jacket who tailed, then hock tied her calf and then petered out. . . kids tumbling out of grandstand to chivvy a shoat to the north, and then to the south, finally clutched by young Mr. McNeeley. (Eddie Thornton, who supplied the shoat as an afterthought, figures three shoats'll make it more interesting, next year.)

Willie Freeman beat the hot-rod on the standing start race with his nag. . . Warren McNeeley filled his pop bottle first from the cow lassoing job done by Ma Birch and Warren assayed riding a steer, making practically the same kind of a dent the others did when he hit the dust. . . for a buck and a half the afternoon's show was CHEAP. . . fine layout for the kids, the Wranglers set up. . . sure kept 'em busy and Ollie handed out a lot of cash awards to calf jockeys before their shooting stars settled. . . Ollie sure champion dog kyuter, shoeing a mutt away from the forthcoming sheep dog show, which was wonderful! . . . Art Crook took a bid of 8 cents a lb., on Shorty Coon's trotter, then lost a race with his cousin, Harve, "Chief of the Pistol River Fire Dept." . . . Earl Morris, former Chetcoite, now Richfielding at Ocean Lake, greeted by many. . . Rockhounds had plenty of drooling material in exquisite display of the Adolphsons—a show in itself. . . hard top racers worked hard to wind up the show, well worth all the price and too bad there weren't more of 'em—some from Crescent City there, and thanks!

As this grey-thatch sat there, he had a deep current of gratitude a-running for the late Allen Boice and the late Paul Wagner, whose busy lives were crowned with the making of the Fair Grounds and Buildings possible, as the announcer well said, "the most beautiful setting of any course in America."

And the lowering sun, far out over the wide Pacific, was a fitting benediction slanting down on a crowd who really had a wonderful day.

Thanks, everybody, especially You Wranglers.

Boats Disappear

Three boats belonging to Parker's Anchorage have disappeared, according to John Hewitt, proprietor.

The boats disappeared Monday night and a search of the coast line in the area has not revealed them.

John is not sure whether the boats could have become untied and drifted out the river, or whether they could have been taken. But he'd like to be informed if any unidentified boats wash ashore near here.

LOCAL NEWS
