

Trip Planned On Old Wimer Road

By MAX BRAINARD

We're advocating a Sunday of exploring!

We've all been talking and yearning for a trans-Oregon road from deep ocean navigation to the "Valley," yet very, very few of us know anything about the country that lies in between. We should, at the very least, be in a position to be intelligently enthusiastic—volubly so—by actually making the trip or talking to those who have. Although you may start out in California you will wind back within a few rods of Oregon when you get to Indian Spring, and recross the state line many, many times, before reaching 199, at O'Brien. Your prime interest, of course, lies North of the Border.

According to word from the U. S. Forest Service, the road is passable for ordinary cars and no trouble can be looked for providing one exercises the caution usual on a one-way, dirt road.

Now, unless you have something better to do on Sunday, Sept. 20, weather permitting—even after church—load up with some of your neighbors and a picnic lunch, plenty of gas, and head south on 101 to the Shell station at Smith River, turn left and keep on going. Don't try to make a speed record unless you have good visibility, far ahead, and always be ready to meet someone coming toward you.

Now, you've probably been figuring on making this trip. Here's your chance and when you get home you'll not only have a better idea of what your own back yard looks like but you'll have driven the road the real pioneers had as their only communication between the coast and the hinterland for many, many a mile. Then, we're sure that, from Monday on you'll want to be one of those who can talk, intelligently, about the route and in years to come, thump your chest in pride as being one who really helped make it the highway it will then surely be!

If any of you who plan to make the trip want to leave or phone your names to the Pilot, in time, we'll try and print the list in our Sept. 24 issue. And we'd like to hear afterward from those who went across and print their names, too, and if space permits, what they thought about it.

Be SURE to take along the camera and a few extra rolls of film.

VISIT RELATIVES AFTER 20 YEARS

Blair Gould left Thursday by plane for St. John, New Brunswick, Canada to visit relatives, some he has not seen for 20 years. A brother planned to meet him at Boston and travel the remaining distance with him.

His son, Gene, now stationed at Niagara Falls, N. Y., will be discharged from service the latter part of the month. He and Mrs. Gene Gould will join "Mickey" in St. John.

New Trailer Camp To Open Soon

The Surf Side trailer camp, a new trailer camp located near the Winchuck river, will open soon.

The camp, about five miles south of Brookings, and about 800 feet from the river, will provide space for 22 trailers, according to its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGregor. Grounds of the camp are electrified, and rest rooms and utility rooms will be incorporated in the park.

Mr. and Mrs. McGregor are enthusiastic about the setting of their camp, which they say is unique along the coast. Because of proximity to both beach and river, they expect it to be enjoyed by tourists as well as sportsmen fishing the three rivers of this area.

Construction is now under way

LOCAL ATTENDANCE AT ARRAH WANNA

Dorothy Rowley and Anne Ritchie returned Monday from Arrah Wanna, near Mt. Hood, where they attended the Baptist Youth Camp. About 90 young people were in attendance. They Forest Fires Come Out of Your Pocket!

Repeat after me:
I WILL BE CAREFUL!

That's right, you pay plenty for forest fires. Just the labor of extinguishing forest fires costs you and other Americans over $50 million each year!

Add to that the tremendous loss of timber, the damage to watersheds, the loss of beautiful recreational areas and wildlife, and the price you pay is staggering.

And here's the ironical part: Out of your pocket also come the very things—the matches and smokes—that cause forest fires. There can be no arguing with facts... and the facts show that 9 out of 10 forest fires are caused by people... people like you.

The prevention of forest fires rests in your hands. You must be careful—exceedingly careful—with matches, smokes, campfires. This year be sure that every flame, every spark is dead out! Help stop America's most shameful waste.

Remember—only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!
