Chetco Choral Club To Close Membership

Membership in the Chetco Choral Club will be closed next week on October 15, as anyone joining the group after that time would be handicapped by not knowing the music.

New members are still wanted, so if you are interested in singing with the group please come to the regular meeting Monday, Oct. 12, at 8 p.m. at the Baptist church.

Mickey Gould, on Tuesday, walked for the first time from his home to the store since his accident. His recent trip to eastern Canada from which he returned last Wednesday was a most enjoyable vacation. While visiting his son Gene at Niagara Falls, he was told that Gene would not be discharged from the service as he had at first been informed.

Baton Instructor Here

C. P. Watts, new Brookings resident, announced last week that he will conduct courses locally in baton twirling, band instruments and the drum.

Mr. Watts is a former band instructor from Jefferson, Ore., high school, and has specialized in baton instruction. Three of his pupils have won prizes in the Elks state-wide contests.

Mr. Watts is staying at the present time at the Paul Whirry residence.

Meeting Attended By VFW, Auxiliary

Three carloads of veterans and their ladies attended the mid-year meetings of District 7, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at Medford, Sunday. About 250 were present from posts and Auxiliaries of Shady Cove, Ashland, Camp White, Medford, Rogue River, Gold Hill, Grants Pass, and Cave Junction. A feature of the meeting was the raffling of floral products raised by local post or Auxiliary members which netted $50. The money was turned over to the groups' Camp White visitors. Several state officers attended the meeting.

From Brookings there went Mrs. Bill Campbell, Mrs. Irmadee LaBarge, Mrs. Lyle Dill, Mrs. Harriet Baker, Mrs. Paul Whirry, Mrs. Bernadine Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Al Phillips, Leslie Ray, J. Koehler, Louie Webb, Piney Van Pelt, Russell White and Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Brainard.

Early reports indicate gains in the membership of both branches.
