

CARE HOLIDAY PACKAGES READY

Turkeys, with or without the trimmings, are now awaiting orders for Thanksgiving or Christmas delivery overseas in the annual CARE food packages especially prepared as holiday gifts, it was announced this week from Oregon CARE headquarters at Lipman Wolfe and company, Portland.

Americans who wish to assure festive dinners for relatives, friends or needy families may reserve the birds immediately in a $12 turkey package or an $18.75 holiday package, complete with a whole canned turkey and a generous serving of extras.

Based on recent surveys of food needs, this year's holiday package is in two variations: one for England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland, the other for Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, Greece, Western Germany and Berlin, Italy, The Netherlands, Norway and Yugoslavia. The turkey alone goes to Japan, Okinawa and the Philippines as well as to all the countries above.

Increased parcel post rates don't affect CARE's prices, since the non-profit agency does its own shipping, Paul Comly French, executive director, pointed out. Present parcel post fees alone would cost a minimum of $5, French said, if an individual sent overseas a package comparable in weight to the average $10 CARE food package (also available for holiday gifts). Orders marked for Thanksgiving or Christmas delivery may be mailed to CARE Oregon headquarters at Lipman Wolfe and company, Portland, or to any local Oregon outlet.

All the CARE-turkeys are broad-breasted Beltsville Whites weighing a minimum of 8 and 1/3 pounds and have the meat equivalent of a regular 10 to 11 pound bird fully dressed. They are steam-roasted in their own juices and can be served cold or heated and browned.

The slightly over 24 pounds of food in the British holiday package includes, in addition to the bird: 29 ounces sliced pineapple; 15 ounces raisins; 1 pound each of prunes, butter, lard, sliced bacon; five pounds sugar; two pounds white rice; eight ounces egg powder; 24 ounces corned beef.

For the other countries, the

Applications For State Loans Up

Applications for the Oregon veterans' 4 per cent home and farm loan in the past two months have so far exceeded the anticipated number that the Department of Veterans' Affairs loan division is "flooded" with them at the present time, Loan Supervisor Ernest J. Smith reported this week.

It was expected that applications would increase about 100 per cent following the July 21 date when the new higher loan amounts voted by the 1953 legislature took effect. Home loan maximums went to $9,000 and farm loans to $15,000 on that date, from the previous $6,000 maximum on both homes and farms.

"Instead, applications actually increased nearly 160 per cent," Smith said. "In the two months following July 21, the department received 1104 applications, for an average of 552 for each of the two months. Under the previous loan limits we were receiving an average of 200 applications a month."

Smith said the loan division was geared up on the basis of the anticipated volume, "but it wasn't enough. Now we are adding to our staff and training new personnel."

WINTEREYS TO SAN DIEGO

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Winterey left Saturday for a trip to San Diego. They will be gone several weeks.

CARE holiday package adds up to a total of almost 19 pounds of turkey and trimmings, including: one pound each of chocolates, plum pudding, assorted unshelled nuts, coffee, margarine, bacon, strawberry preserves; two pounds sugar; 12 ounces each of roast beef and pork luncheon meat.

DEER HUNTING REPORTS GOOD

Initial reports from throughout Oregon indicate a high percentage of success was experienced by deer hunters on the opening day of deer season, October 3.

Western Oregon hunters were blessed by the weatherman when the stormy skies cleared and Saturday dawned a clear crisp autumn day. Deer were found to be plentiful and in excellent condition.

East of the Cascades, hunters found conditions somewhat more difficult, but considerably improved over last year. Hunting at higher elevations was the most productive in general, but overall success was quite good.

Archers taking part in the opening of the Tillamook archery area were not as successful as the rifle hunters since the limited number of people in the area did not seem to stir up the deer to any great extent. Several fine deer were taken, however, and as in the rifle areas were found to be in excellent condition.

Portland office of the game commission indicate there might be some record heads on the bucks taken during opening week end. Hunters are reminded that the commission is now participating in a program to maintain official records of big game trophies. Hunters are asked to register any outstanding trophies bagged on forms available at the regional offices of the commission at Albany, Roseburg, Bend, La Grande and Hines. Registration blanks are also available at the Portland headquarters.
