

Weather Station Report 3 Hourly

Beginning today three hourly weather reports are being telephoned to Medford where they will be placed on teletype and used in making forecasts.

Louis Krezak, U. S. Weather Bureau, installed the instruments permanently at the local station the first of the week and gave instruction and examinations to new observers. Six hourly observations were resumed in October when telephone service was restored.

Manning the local station are: Mrs. Luther Tisdale and Mrs. Dewey Akers, observers, and Luther Tisdale and Virginia Akers, relief observers.

Right Around Here

By MAX BRAINARD

A capacity crowd celebrated Armistice Day at the V.F.W. Hall last Saturday evening. Despite other attractions about all that could be accommodated sat down to a splendid potluck supper and there was enough left over for a buffet, available throughout the evening. After the meal, Mrs. Lee Rice sang for the crowd and Ben Jones showed a beautiful set of colored slides he had taken in the back country. After that, the veterans and their kin entertained themselves, according to their own interests, with games, visiting, and dancing until a late hour. There were visitors from Gold Beach and Crescent City.

Mrs. Bob (Clara) Goyke has been confined to her home with a very hard cold.

The Edward Grootendorsts were involved in a collision just this side of the state line, this past weekend. Both suffered minor bruises and the car was seriously damaged. It is said the driver of the car that hit them acknowledged his fault.

Among the colored slides Ben Jones has made, this past summer, in the back country is one of great interest to botanists as it shows a close-up of a pure white rhododendron above a cluster of leaves of the almost as rare Sadlers Oak.

It is said that some of the miners came in from the hills, when some snow fell in their neighborhood, and took right off for San Francisco and other villages, to check on their outside interests.

Ken Barker and Laura have been having further gopher trouble in the nice lawn they're trying to cultivate. They've got two of the varmints, already.

PLANTER ON DISPLAY

If you haven't been past the window of the House of Shoes lately you really should go look. They are displaying a planter arrangement done by Mrs. John Molino which is very unusual and beautiful.

Mrs. Molino has hollowed out a large redwood burl and planted it with a number of varieties of plants, mosses, and mushrooms. It's the prettiest planter we've ever seen.

"OLD DOC STEELE"

Originator of "DOC ELMER STEELES RUBBING OIL
and COUNTER IRRITANT"

FRIENDS—Those of us, who because of our advanced years do occasionally suffer from the aches and pains which often come with the changes of local weather conditions or other reasons and which are most likely to strike us where during our productive years, we have incurred broken and bruised bones, abrasions and cuts, know by experience that while in some instances internally administered drugs can deaden the nervous system of our bodies to that we cannot feel our aches and pains momentarily, the continual use of them, and especially when taken without the advice of a qualified physician, can and often do leave the sufferers in morally and physically weakened conditions which may lead to things worse than the original pains and aches.

With the advent of my formula, which under the trade mark of "Doc Steeles Rubbing Oil and Counter Irritant" has for many years alleviated the pains and aches of Rheumatism, Arthritis, Neuritis, Lumbago and many other ailments to which many of us are afflicted, so successfully and continuously that hundreds of my friends have written me, expressing their thanks and gratification. So, folks, I want you to try just one bottle and if you don't get almost immediate relief and comfort, send me the bottle and I will remit you the full price plus the postage. That's fair enough, isn't it?

The Price—$2.00 per bottle or 3 bottles for $5.00.
