

Valuable Dollars Begin Circulating in Brookings

The lucky dollar fad reached Brookings this week, and from now on it will pay you to check the serial numbers of the bills in your wallet.

If you have the right one, it's worth ten dollars to you at Chetco Home and Auto Supply.

Beginning this week, Chetco Home and Auto are putting into circulation, in Brookings a dollar bill with a certain serial number. That serial number will appear in their ad in the Pilot each week. If you have it, bring it to Chetco Home and Auto, and they'll exchange it for a ten dollar bill.

It's just for people of this area, too. Every week, a lucky dollar will be placed in the till at Chetco Home and Auto, and it will go into circulation in change from the store. At the store, they figure it won't get far away from Brookings before it is found.

It's simple as that. Turn first to the Chetco Home and Auto ad, and find the serial number. Then check the bills in your wallet... and keep watching them. Good hunting!

RECORD PTA CROWD VISITS SCHOOL ROOMS

The largest group to date—180 people—turned out for the PTA meeting last Wednesday evening to see exhibits of the children's work and to talk individually with the teachers.

Mr. Martin and Mrs. Hampton won the prize for the most parents attending.

Margaret Breuer, chairman, introduced the room mothers for this year, and every room was represented.

Some important business was transacted, as the group passed the budget prepared by the budget committee. Also approved was the expenditure of $120 for a college scholarship to be awarded at the end of the year. Mrs. Archie Hendricks is in charge of administering this fund and setting up the qualifications.

All the Christmas cards were sold, and the coffee maker has been ordered.

Refreshments were served by eighth grade mothers.

Next month's meeting will be "Dad's Night" and the program and refreshments will be provided by the dads. Allen Crosby is in charge and will appreciate any volunteer help.

Attend Tax Conference

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Guerrettaz returned Saturday evening from attending a tax conference held at Southern Oregon College at Ashland. Attorneys and accountants from several of the western states who are experts in the field of federal and state taxation spoke to the conference. After each talk a period is given for questions and discussion.

The conference is open to accountants, attorneys, business executives and others who are interested in taxation.
