

LETTER TO THE EDITOR'S WIFE

Brookings, Oregon
November 12, 1953

Dear Doris:

Since I ain't time to offishly call on you and another excuse for writin' instead of callin' is to tell you a few things—of a few things that you should know—as I realize you have a great deal to put up with—from your so-called better-half—and this saves me from being thrown out of your office by HIM (I ain't mentioning no names). Well, anyway, I see by the front page that he is acting up again—people are funny—now you take this feller Bill Phelps (you can have him) what writes a lot of gush in that there paper of yours—I allus tho't you could a done a lot better marryin up with him—cause I remember when you were a purty cute little gal (you're still cute) an you used to play around our house with Arlene a lot—course we had a purty good lookin boy at home too—! an I always had an idee that you were going to be an aful pert dotter in law but you ups and commits matrimony with this Phelps Feller and I don't like him, SEE. I'd challenge him to a duel but theres too much law against anymore—things was kinda peaceful and quiet like fore he cum to town—seems like he's always and forever stirrin around news-grabbin and sech like. You can tell him that here pitcher ain't rite a tall—cause that new President allus keeps his shoelaces

Lucky Sevenettes Elect Officers

The Lucky Sevenette Club, female auxiliary for the Lucky Seven, elected officers at their regular meeting Tuesday.

President Peggy Gran and Secretary Joann Clendenin had previously been elected during initial operations. Joining them were: Janet Bailey, vice president; De Etta Hyland, treasurer; Lois Chapman, sergeant-at-arms; Bonnie Kay Mincer, chaplain; Janet Glass, reporter.

The club selected green and white as club colors, and are now working on a baby-sitting project. Mrs. Betty Shea is chaperone for the group.

HANLONS MOVE

Mel Hanlon, who has managed the Curry County Gas company here moved with his family last week to Eureka where he has accepted a position with another firm.

PHILLIPS GO TO MEDFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips of Phillips Dad 'n' Lad went to Medford last weekend on a buying trip. They attended a showing of the Pendleton line and promise a lot of lovely new things in the early spring.

—an by the way he says jest for mistakes like that there, Bill don't need to come a-sobbin on his sore shoulder for a loan cause he's goin be fresh out of any—and I hope you are the same with deepset sympathy—

MORT

P. S. Didn't that there Bill live on tother end of Center Street in Salem?
