Nayborhill News

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jagers and the William Eickhoffs were visitors at the home of Ed Ravekes Monday evening. A game of Canasta was enjoyed.

The Langworthy home surely looks different with all those trees cut down from their front yard. It's really an improvement—lets all the sunshine in!

Two of our Nayborhill neighbors have increased in their families since yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hanks have two little girls, Flora Joe and Sara Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Drobaugh have a little boy, Billie Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown are in Coquille on business.

Now, you should see the beautiful rug the Reisers have under the new TV set! (please park your shoes at the back door.)

A special meeting was called for the ladies of Nayborhill Club to meet at the home of Elsa Ravekes Tuesday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was to pack the Christmas boxes for some needy families, and to select the families who are to receive the boxes.

The Hanks' little dog "Pal" treed a big coon on their place Sunday night. Papa Hanks went out with his trusty 22 and got Mr. Coon. Little Greg Behee tried very hard to saw a coonskin cap out of his tail.

James Cearley Dies In Washington

Word has been received in Smith River, telling of the death of James Cearley, 38, who passed away at Eatonville, Wash., on December 21.

He is survived by his wife, Hazel Cearley, two children, Eleanor and Jimmy, his mother, and several brothers and sisters residing in Washington.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday. Interment was at the family plot at Chehalis, Wash.

The Cearleys lived at Smith River for several years and owned their home here. Cearley operated an auto repair and welding shop until ill health forced him to give up his work. He left for Washington for medical treatment several weeks ago.

The Hamness' had an early morning visitor Friday. It liked the neighborhood and didn't want to leave (it was a shetland pony.)

Work Begins On Scout Home

Work on the Boy Scout home will begin again next Monday, after having been interrupted by the rains, according to Mike Page, chairman of the building committee.

At 9 a.m. on that day, two carpenters will be going to work on the building, assisted by all the volunteer labor available.

Mike is hopeful that there will be a number of people not working through the holidays who will be glad to give some time to the construction of the building. The committee has been stockpiling materials for the structure for some time.

Blaine Gribble, who is directing the building plans, will be on the site, and will be in need of labor. Volunteers are requested to bring their own tools.

The site of the building is on Azalea road, near the park.

Al Botzek Wins Beta Sigma Doll

After almost a month of suspense, the fetching Saucy Walker doll, complete with a wardrobe-trunk of hand-made clothes, was finally awarded to Al Botzek (who, fortunately, has a daughter!) The winning ticket was drawn by a small volunteer from the audience Monday night during the intermission at the Pine Cone Theater.

The Brookings Beta Iota chapter of Beta Sigma Phi wishes to thank everyone who so generously bought tickets on the doll, to congratulate Mr. Botzek, and to console every little girl (and big girl, too!) who envisioned Saucy Walker as her own.

A total of 780 tickets were sold since the doll was first displayed. This money is earmarked as a Service Fund for the youth of Brookings, and will specifically help to sponsor Sunday afternoon bowling teams among Brookings school students, details of which will be announced at a later date.

Beta Sigma Phi also expresses its gratitude to all the merchants who so kindly made space in their windows and stores for the doll, with special thanks to Eva Lee's, Mincer's Jewelry, Hi-Way Market,

Tots-to-Teens, Dimmick Brothers' Market, Hanscam's and Dawson's Shell Service.

Another doll, with another wardrobe, is planned for next year, so losers, take heart!

Mrs. Berger

Winner of Doll

Mrs. Edith Berger of Brookings won beautiful Susie Walker doll given away by Tots to Teens Friday. The winner of the boy doll, ticket No. 066496 has not yet appeared, but the doll will be held until Christmas eve.

If the doll is not claimed by then, another drawing will be held after Christmas, so hang on to your tickets—you may win yet.
