NAYBORHILL CLUB

Next regular meeting of Nayborhill Club will be held at Mrs. Lona McCarton's home April 7th.

Just want to remind you again about that Junior Musium collection. Take your items to either Mrs. Ethel Hale, Mrs. Helen Smith or Mrs. B. Miller, or send them into school by a school child. There's probably lots of things of interest like Indian curios, shells, drift wood, butterflies, etc. tucked away in some corner or drawer that you have forgotten all about having. Dig them out and send them in and let others enjoy them too.

Wednesday evening the Satellite chapter 165, Order of Eastern Star held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Hanks. Twenty-two members were present (besides the two men folk who stayed in the kitchen and helped out on the refreshments.)

Plans for the Fashion Show were discussed. It will be credit to the Brookings and Harbor communities again as usual we know. No one should miss it. Besides the Fashion Show, there will be skits, dancing and some wonderful door prizes donated by the merchants of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeser had dinner and spent the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Drorbaugh Thursday.

Some of our Naybors worked on the Chetco Grange Hall Saturday in spite of the rain. They are putting a new foundation under the Hall.

Mr. Howard Mason and Mrs. John Seaver and son visited here over the week end. They expected to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stewart but the folks had gone to Medford to visit with Carl and Billie Mason.

Mrs. Erma Rice and Mrs. Hanscam Sr., were visitors in our Nayborhill Thursday.

Percy Hanks went by bus to Coos Bay Saturday to a meeting of the Knights Temple Order of Pacific Commanding No. 10. Percy says it rained and the wind blew all the way up and back, but he did enjoy the meeting very much.

Several others from here drove their cars up and some stayed over for a day or two.

Mrs. Allie Weaver is quite ill and Dr. Ronniger has been attending her.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Schmidt drove to Roseburg over the week-end to visit their son, Wayne, and family. They visited friends at Tri-City and Myrtle Creek on the way.

Sunday was pretty quiet on Nayborhill. Probably was because some of the mist that Editor Phelps said fell in 1889 was coming down all day. Heard over the radio this morning that the only place with EVEN a sprinkle was a small spot some-place in Washington—guess they didn't look our way cause it sure didn't mist us—rained all day and night!

Ray Reeser and Gerold Hendricks left Friday evening for Metolian River near Camp Sherman. Ray went up to help work on Hendricks new home. He was expected home Sunday eve, but didn't get home until Monday eve due to a 12" snow on the South Santiam. He was stranded six hours on the Summit near Sistus.

Mrs. Ruth Bathany and Mrs. Leon Stewart have finally finished those Garden Club programs for the year. I'll bet they aren't sorry. I don't think we realize how much work goes into a project like that. These ladies and all the other working members of the Garden Club have a lot of credit coming to them. They are a part of what makes this such a grand community to live in.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ravekes were among those from Brookings and Harbor who attended the Ophir Grange Friday night.

The Ladies Degree team of Chetco Grange 765 put on the 3rd and 4th degree for members of the Ophir Grange. There were 35 Grangers who went from here.

Mr. A. Woodruff from Fairyland Gardens of Harbor donated orchids for the ladies of the degree teams and Mrs. Tom Carson made the corsages which were beautiful.

The Ophir Grange ladies served a regular harvest feast, then the rest of the evening was spent by dancing.

After the meeting was closed the Ophir Grange ladies served a delicious basket feast that ended the evening by everyone dancing.
