

BOWLING RESULTS

Commercial League

Brookings Machine Shop swept game high, series high and four points last week, as they trounced unhappy Kerr Hardware, 4 to 0. B. and H. Logging defeated US National Bank, 3-1; Brookings Market took Barry's Bowlers, 3 to 1, and Harbor Garage and the VFW split, 2-2.

High individual scores were Elwood Coslett, 217 and Bill Higham, 558. Brookings Machine had 864 and 2539.

Chub Coon, intrepid bowler for Kerr Hardware, played out the match under protest, after scorekeepers failed to give him credit for a strike. Chuck knocked down two pins in his alley and eight in the next one, which totals ten, as even a scorekeeper should know. It was partly due to his intrepid play that Kerr clung brilliantly to its cellar position.

Teenage-Age League

According to the records, the Hep Cats had high game and series last week while only scoring one point. We haven't figured out how they did it yet. Scores were, Gutter Lovers 3, Hep Cats 1, Pin Topplers 4, King Pins 0, Brain Busters 3, Alley Dusters 1, and Pin Pals 2, Maple Mashers 2. Jerry Anderson had high game, at 164 and series at 466. Hep Cats had 637 and 1725.

Beaverette League

It was a real monotonous here this week. Freeman's Market, Cliff House, Hanscam's and Tots to Teens all had 3 points; Miner's, Kerr Hardware, Lesmeister's and VFW each had one.

Cliff House had high game, at 932. Hanscams had high series at 2549. Clara Goyke knocked down a couple of pins (493 to be exact.)

Cal-Ore League

Mellon's Millwork gained another precious point as they took the Rod and Gun Club, 4-0, while second-place Azalea Lanes took Curry County Lumber, 3 to 1. Pacific Motors took Westbrook's

4-H NEWS

The "Pebble Pups" Rock and Mineral Club met again on Friday, March 26. Jerilyn Longacre, club secretary was back after being absent for some time.

The club strayed away from the subject of rocks. Mrs. Archie McVay was guest speaker. She showed her Indian trinkets and chief's skull. She answered many questions about the trinkets and about Indians. The club found her visit very interesting.

Last week Dale Turpin, Kathleen Phelps, and Karen Barker read to the group from a pamphlet, "Stories Told From the Rocks."

Karen Barker acted as Secretary during Jerilyn Longacre's absence.

3½ to ½, and Celler-dwelling Smith River Legion surprised Foster and Bolvi, 4 to 0.

High team game was by Azalea Lanes, at 872, and Mellon's 2475. High individual scores were by Andy Mellon at 215 and Floyd Calph at 557.

Rotarians Host Scout Leaders

Members of the Brookings-Harbor Rotary Club Tuesday met four of the Den leaders who have shepherded the Cub Scouts through the past year.

The four were guests during the presentation of the Rotary Club's third charter as a scout-sponsoring organization. Henry Kerr made the presentation to Bob Phillips for the club.

The mothers, Mrs. Lee English, Mrs. Al Phillips, Mrs. Henry Kerr and Mrs. F. A. Arrell, were presented with their cards, and told the group of the enjoyment they had had with the boys.

Also present was Ernie Wheeler, Cub Scout master, who told the group of the need for more men to aid in the scouting program.

Four Rotarians received recognition for the party they had played in the scouting program, also. They were F. A. Arrell, Hugh Bronson, Bob Dimmick and Frank Chapin.

HOME ON VACATION

Howard Ritchey and Bud Dotson spent the last week at their homes here in Brookings during spring vacation from Oregon State College. They left again Sunday morning to resume their studies.
