

Satellite Club's Fashion Show Plays to Capacity Crowd

The seventh annual Fashion Show sponsored by the Satellite Club of the Order of Eastern Star was presented to a capacity crowd in the auditorium of the High School.

Lavender and Old Lace was the theme of the show, carried out in wisteria vines, climbing star trelises on the stage, and the dresses of the officers of the club which were lavender nylon, in a very becoming style.

The show opened with a charming dance done by the officers who carried black lace trimmed parasols, and wore black lace gloves, and black domino masks. The dance was coached by Blossom Behee.

Master of Ceremonies Roy H. Brown, did a very fine job of keeping things moving, and gave away a record number of prizes in record time.

High lighting the show as usual, was the presentation by the Tots to Teens Shop, which featured a tumbling act by Judy Coates.

Another "special" was the amusing skit presented by Gould's Shoe Store, in which Peggy Gould reenacted the old old problem of the woman who can't make up her mind, with Susie Tierce and Rawley Burr as the customer, and her long suffering husband.

Blossom Behee's School of Dancing was represented by Susie Kay Martin doing a military tap dance with a luminous costume which was very effective, and by Diana Cargill who did a ballet number, entitled very appropriately, "In the Pink". Little Diana wore a pink costume with fluffly skirt and a pink tiara.

Mrs. Helen Rice sang in her usual fine manner.

Bonnie Kay Mincer's students demonstrated the five positions used in Ballet dancing and several poses, with "living pictures" in a silver frame. Bonnie Kay explained the various poses and their use in dancing, and the last model, Kathleen Phelps "came to life" and danced. Her dance was entitled, Lilactime, and she wore the traditional tu-tu in purple and pink.

Drawings for the door prizes were held between presentations by the different merchants. Drawing was done by Jerry Hanscam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hanscam.

Music for the show was provided by Mrs. Vera Fowler at the piano, and Yelton's provided recorded music before the show. Jewelry worn by the models was from Mincer's and shoes from the House of Shoes, & Gould's.

A number of very lovely things were shown by the various merchants who provided their own commentary, and Beta Sigma Phi members modeled original creations for all hours of the day, which turned out to be a hilarious end to the evening.
