

SMITH RIVER

Women's Club Shows Antiques

The first reciprocity tea sponsored by the Smith River Women's club was held on the afternoon of April 15, at the Community Hall. More than 75 ladies from Crescent City, Klamath, Gasquet and Smith River turned out for the lovely antique display.

In the center of the hall was a beautiful woodland pool, surrounded by mossy banks and wild flowers. Yellow pond lilies were growing in the pool. The display was arranged and created by Mrs. Billie Brown.

A number of the guests wore centennial costumes, appropriate to the antique display.

The walls of the hall were decorated with pictures and paintings belonging to club members. The tea table was centered with pink tulips, arranged by Pasy Westbrook and Mary Fisher.

We Too... MUST MAKE ENDS MEET

PERHAPS you've never thought that a telephone company, just like everybody else, has to make its budget balance.

FIRST, of course, we have to pay all the day-to-day and month-by-month costs of keeping our system in operation. Our annual payroll alone now totals more than five million dollars a year.

THEN we must find a place in our budget to replace equipment as it wears out, and to take advantage of every possible labor, time and money-saving device in order to make our service as efficient and as economical as possible.

WE pay our full share of taxes, too. In 1953, our Federal, state and local tax payments were $1,667,849. This figure does not include the Federal excise taxes which are added every month to your telephone bill and which last year were more than one million six hundred thousand dollars. Altogether, 31c out of every telephone dollar you pay goes for taxes!

AND, to make telephone services available to the thousands and thousands of new residents in our area, we must continue to invest more and more capital. Our plant in service has tripled in the past eight years, and this coming year, 1954, we have budgeted $6,300,000 for additional new construction.

Just like yourselves, we too must make ends meet, in order to provide you with the efficient telephone service you expect. And we, even more than many other fields, have been pressed harder and harder by increased costs. In spite of this, we will continue to bring you the finest possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.
