Credit Bureaus Inc., of Salem, announce the appointment of John Francoeur as their reporting and collection representative in Brookings. He will continue his present work with Fox Bros., but will in addition handle the credit work.

This action comes as a result of the requests of the local Retail Merchants Association, and other interested Brookings merchants, who have felt that credit conditions in Brookings justified an intensified program.

Ledger surveys will be made among the local merchants and a set of files developed covering the trade territory of Brookings, and it will soon be possible for the local business firms to obtain local

PAUL SEZ . . .

We have a mighty pleased customer here at DAVIS TRUCK & TRACTOR. We delivered a new FARMALL SUPER "C" TRACTOR with the new FAST HITCH to L. L. Borough. "L. L." is a pretty big operator as a bulb grower in these parts. Here is what he had to say: "I believe you fellows were conservative in stating it takes ten seconds to hitch on to an implement with that Fast Hitch. I can do it in five and never get off the tractor. Best part is I didn't have to get rid of my 3 point hitch tools I had with my old tractor. With the adapter you sold me I can use them with my FAST HITCH. You won't see this tractor sitting in the shed at cultivating time. She rides and handles like a dream too."

You can't blame us for being just a little proud here at DAVIS TRUCK & TRACTOR when we have customers talking like that. Don't forget we service what we sell and we are right here at home.

Local Boxers Shine Before Small Crowd

The local Lucky Seven club played host to a very poor crowd for their first boxing smoker, which proved to be an outstanding event. With nine bouts in all, the evening was well supplied with flying leather.

Robert Fackrell of Brookings won the first bout in a decision over Donald Coyne of Sixes. Roy Dirks of Brookings took the second, with Roy also winning honors as Brookings' best boxer of the evening. He topped Sonny Sutphin of Bandon.

Albert Shuey of Brookings and Paul Collier of Sixes fought to a draw. Stanley Gribble lost to Jim Crutcher of Port Orford, after giving him a good run for the first two rounds.

Judges Roy Pollard and Roy Brown and referee Tom Martin gave the fifth bout to Neal Knapp of Port Orford in a decision over Ron Fackrell of Brookings. Lee Crane of Port Orford decided Don Bond of Brookings, with Crane scoring as the best boxer among the visitors.

In three local bouts, Charles Bond topped Dick Berger; Ken Russel and Jerry Anderson drew; and Raleigh Burr and Oren Fackrell also fought to a draw.

With a possibility of another smoker in the near future, the boys hope for a better crowd. Lucky Sevenette girls supplied the refreshments.

reports on all local residents. It is anticipated that many local people who have not been too prompt in payment of their obligations may hurry in to get paid up before the ratings are completed by the local merchants.

Mr. Francoeur will also do collection investigations, and will arrange for other types of collection activity from the Coquille Credit Bureau.

This tie-in of the local credit activity with the Salem firm is an excellent one for Brookings, since it will give the local merchants a connection not only with the Credit Bureaus, Inc. offices in Oregon and Idaho, but will also give access to the files of Credit Bureaus all over America.
