Junior Prom Proves Success

Brookings-Harbor High School Commencement activities began Saturday evening with the annual Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom which were pronounced by many to be the best ever given here.

The banquet was held at the Chetco Inn, with mothers of the Juniors providing the dinner. Peggy Gran was chairman for the event.

Tables were decorated with candles, favors, and nutcups and entertainment was provided by speeches by Raleigh Burr for the Juniors, and Bonnie Kay Mincer for the Seniors, and the Class History read by Joe Nichols, Prophecy by Robert Salaman, Will by Ray Western. A piano solo by Joanne Tyler and two musical numbers by girls of the Junior Class completed the program.

For the Prom, the High School Gym was transformed by a star-studded blue ceiling and brick walls. Susie Tierce and Lloyd Russell were crowned king and queen of the prom., and Susie was presented with a bouquet. Music was provided by the Golden Blues orchestra from Crescent City.

Chairman of the Prom committee was Caroline Hanson, and chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Stotenberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thatcher.
