

WORK BEGINS ON NEW LIBRARY; HELP NEEDED ON WEEKEND

BY MAX BRAINARD

Our public Library is, at long last, being built!

All the trustees are assembled and ready to place, studs all cut and plate material ready to be laid. Other essentials have been ordered and everyone who can, please show up either or both this coming Saturday and/or Sunday commencing at 8 A. M. With enough workers the building should, in two days, be roofed, sided, and probably much more done.

Men and women are wanted who are capable of driving at nails or holding material for someone else to fasten. Bring a hammer. There will undoubtedly be plenty of advisers and technicians to see that all energies are well directed.

We should, at least, get the frame up the first day and the next, get the roof and siding on and anything else that is ready to go.

Roy Weidman is supervising architect. Jack McCarton is in charge of getting materials on to the site. Mrs. Erma Rice is pursuing the water and sanitary set-up. Mrs. Arthur Knox has assumed charge of the painters and decorators. Mrs. Earl Simpson has the interior furniture on her mind, and Frenchie Arrell and M. S. Brainard are running down the odds and ends. Mrs. Charlie Schaal is keeping the clerical notes and Mrs. Claude Goldizen scrutinizes the bills and as long as the money holds out, pays them. The Association has over $3,500 in contributions and the books are open for more.

It would be nice if the non-pounding ladies who are interested would come over with, maybe, some coffee, or, at the least, a potluck feed or some sandwiches and whatnot!

Please notify Mrs. Rice, Frenchie, or Mrs. Knox of the day most convenient for you to work but this is not essential.

The location—Oak and Redwood, one block east of the Catholic Church.
