over its contents. Especially since he is now amongst those decried in the poem by Mary F. Bakem of Brookings.

MAIL TIME

See folks a-headin' down the street.

A certain time each day,
Toward the little old post office
From every which way.

While the clerks are sorting letters,
There's time for a friendly Chat,
Perhaps discussin' politics,
Or comparin' this and that.

It's the high-spot of the afternoon,
Most folks look forward to,
Cause even if you get no mail,
You'll sure hear somethin' New!

That's one thing I am sure we'd miss,
If mail came door to door,
The smiles and nods of folks we know,
Each afternoon 'round four!

Rainbow Girls

Peffley, Treasurer, Mary Hanks, Charley and Agda Bickner. Those not installed at this time are Iris Kindel, Mary Jane Brimm, Helen Hanscam.

The Gold Beach chapter Order of De Molay under direction of Douglas Danville, Dad Advisor, crowned Peggy Grau as Worthy Advisor and presented her with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

Under Good of the order Peggy introduced her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graw. She thanked the advisory board for selecting her as Worthy Advisor. She also thanked Masons and Eastern Star and grand officers who helped to make Rainbow for Girls in Brookings possible.

Mrs. Husten, Kay Macy, Marilyn Hagan and Evelyn Mast addressed the assembly.

The Gold Beach assembly presented an Altar Bible to the new assembly. Eileen Swan gave white leather bound Bible to each charter member. Robert Swan presented them the crown for Worthy Advisor. Jewels were presented by John Peffley. Enid Hurst and Chas. and Ogda Bickner. $30.00 was presented by the Sidney Croft Lodge which paid for the rug.

Refreshments were served by members of Satellite chapter, with Ethel Twohy as chairman. Dee White was chairman of decoration committee.

The Past Matrons club of Satellite chapter, under the chairmanship of Lillian Wiedeman, gave a luncheon at the Cliff House preceeding the ceremonies for the Brookings assembly, Gold Beach assembly, the De Molays and visiting dignitaries present for ceremonies. The tables were beautifully decorated with rainbows and lovely hydrangia flowers.

About 120 attended the luncheon.
