

RITCHIE, GIROD WEDDING HELD IN CHURCH HERE

Miss Anna Pearl Ritchie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe A. Ritchie, of Brookings, became the bride of Clifford R. Girod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Girod of Salem, Ore. in a candlelight ceremony on Friday evening, August 27. The service was performed in the Baptist Community church here.

White gladoli and greenery formed the lovely floral setting for the double ring rites, at which the Rev. Walter Sadler officiated.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Stanley Patterson on the organ, accompanied by Janet Mosier at the piano. Viola Mosier sang "Because" and "Always", and Robert Solomon sang the "Lord's Prayer".

The bride wore a gown of white tulle and lace, fashioned with fitted bodice, full hoop skirt and court train, with a nylon veil of fingertip length. She carried her white Bible upon which rested a corsage of gladoli in pastel hues.

Miss Karen Ritchie attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a gown of pale green net over satin with brief jacket of lace. The bridesmaids, Miss Ethel Girod of Salem, a sister of the groom, and the Misses Lois Chapman and Dorothy Rowley wore pastel gowns with matching lace jackets, and carried sheafs of pastel gladoli.

Daryl Girod served as his brother's best man, and ushers were Howard Ritchie, brother of the bride, Jack and Bob Keekle and Bruce Boatman.

Charles Anderson, 4, was ring-bearer, and Sonja and Sylvia Hagen served as flower girls.

For the rites, Mrs. Ritchie, mother of the bride, chose a gown of black-figured taffeta in pink.

A reception followed in the church parlors where Mrs. Pierce continued serving the bride's cake, assisted by Mrs. Edith Ackley. Mrs. Dwayn Rowley presided at the punchbowl, and Miss Pat Herman had charge of the guest book.

For the wedding trip south, the bride wore a navy blue taffeta frock accented with red and white accessories. She will reside with the groom's parents at 5212 Market St., Salem, when he goes into training Sept. 7 with the U. S. Army.

He was a former teacher in the Brookings high school, and is a graduate of Willamette University, where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. The bride, who was graduated last spring from the Brookings high school, plans to attend business college in Salem.

Mrs. Dewey Akers, Virginia and Hugh returned Sunday after a weeks vacation to Springfield, Dayton, Portland and Seaside where they visited friends and relatives. In Portland they visited Miss Edith Ott and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Shepard, former Brookings residents. Lambert Gardens, Washington Park and Art Gallery and Museum were on the Portland itinerary.

The coast highway, although a few miles of it under construction, was found to be much improved since the Akers had traveled it.

Curry County

Curry County, you who sit
With your back to the world, disdaining it,
With your back to the world and your feet in the sea,
Reading its riddles endlessly—

Curry County, you who wear
Nests of eagles in your hair,
Who bind your forests with golden streams,
Hiding treasures for miner's dreams;
Who wear white bones of the sunken hosts
In a cruel necklace about your coasts;
To whom the sea-gull's cry is a song
Tuned to the breakers your shores along;
You who clasp to your breast
The last frontier of the fading West—

Curry County, do you know
A lover leaves you when I go?

And if it happen I die some day,
A friend, let his name be what it may,
So that he loves both thee and me,
Shall seek some height that is part of thee,
Cooley's Point, or Battle Rock,
Or some unnamed ledge where the sea-birds flock,
Shall take up a pebble, and fling it down
Into the caldron whose angers drown
The sound of its falling, and as it drops*
The wind shall chant thru the torn tree tops,
"Curry, Curry, beside thy shore
Hold thou this memory evermore."
