

Beta Sigma Phi Doll Moves To Eva Lee's

Saucy Walker, the beautiful big doll which Beta Sigma Phi will raffle off the night of December 20th, has moved again. For the next week she'll be surveying the pre-Christmas scene from the window of Eva Lee's dress shop, surrounded by her wardrobe of dresses, pedal-pushers, evening gowns and sunsuits, hand made by the Beta members.

To double the pleasure of looking and wishing, Saucy's twin sister will be on display, with her own hand-made wardrobe, in the window of the Tots to Teens, next to the Post Office. Tickets on both dolls, at only twenty-five cents each, are available from the shops which display them, as well as from Phillip's "Ded to Lad" Shop or any member of Beta Sigma Phi. Saturday afternoon tickets will be also be sold in the Bakery.

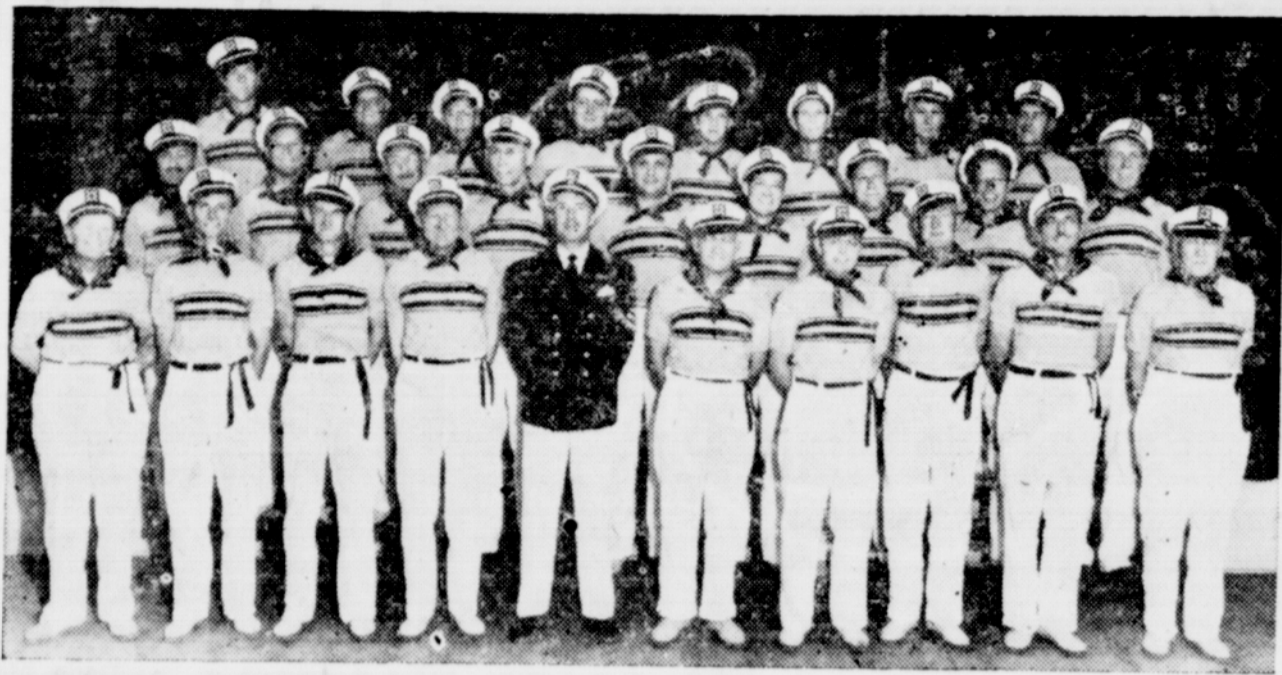

The proceeds from the sale of tickets on these dolls will go into the Service Fund of Beta Sigma Phi, which this year will be used to help furnish books and furniture for the Children's room of the new Chetco Library.

Watch the Pilot for the future whereabouts of both Saucy Walkers.

Human faculties are common, but that which converges these faculties into my identity, separates me from every other man.

CHORUS REHEARSALS START FOR BROOKINGS CHAPTER S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.

Brookings Chapter members met Monday night at the High School to resume Chorus practice after a forced vacation of three months. Nineteen members were on hand along with two guests who were Ben Phetteplace and Rev. Walter Sadler.

Bob Dick, director, lead the chorus through a stiff practice session and several get-together quartets sang before the members and guests.

Mrs. Marie Funk arrived in time to enjoy a few old numbers by the chorus.

The board of directors will meet this coming week to select a date and new members for the chorus to learn before staging the big parade of Barbershop Quartets some time this next spring.

New members are needed to fill out in both second tenor and baritone sections and prospective members are invited to meet next Monday night at the High School, December 6th, 8:00 p. m.

It is not necessary for the new members to be able to read music, a number of the present members can not read and all learn our parts by the director playing on the piano. So the welcome mat is out for all who would like to join the Chapter in getting plans under way for the coming show.

The chapter is a member of the International organization, and have had grand shows in the past and expect to have many more in the future. The chorus picture you see in the paper is only a couple of years old and it's hoped that with the help of you prospective new members will swell the ranks so they can have a chorus of at least 28 more.
