World Peace Up To Individual, Lecturer Says

Peace of mind as well as peace in the world depends upon the honest efforts of men and women everywhere to understand and to apply the spiritual laws of God. Ralph Castle of San Francisco, California, told an audience here March 7, 1955.

By learning to rely on these divine laws, people find that they can overcome fear, boredom and tension and discover for themselves that lasting peace is a "gift direct from God, divine Love, to each individual," Mr. Castle declared, adding "The divine fact regarding man's real nature is that he is wholly spiritual, the expression of God."

Currently on an extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Castle spoke under the auspices of Christian Science Society in Brookings, Oregon. The lecturer, who was introduced by Albert C. Joy, Chairman of Board of Directors, spoke on "Christian Science: The Law Governing True Self Expression."

Peace is everybody's business, Mr. Castle said, stressing that "if we are to contribute to the peace of the world, the nation, the church, the community, or the family, the place to start is with ourselves, in our own consciousness."

The problem of how to prevent war and the rumors of war cannot be solved through governmental action and cooperation alone, he declared. "The solution lies mainly with each individual, for permanent peace of mind and peace in the world will be brought about only so fast as every man, woman and child perceives the meaning of real selfhood, which raises thought . . . to the great-spiritual fact that true self-expression is divine, ever present Mind, God, expressing Himself through man."

Man's greatest need at this time he said, is to know more about the true relationship between God and man. Sickness as well as sin is healed through the application of the spiritual laws of God.

As our understanding of God and of true self-expression grows, he continued, "it will be seen that we can and may claim and enjoy here and now, that inward spiritual peace which is ours by right of inheritance as the children of God. By invoking the law of God, we find the spiritual fact to be

"WHAT!

A Laundromat in Brookings?

They won't last six months . . .
... too many washing machines around here!"

The friendly but pessimistic folks who said or thought that two years ago had a point. An automatic laundry could have failed in Brookings. Ours has kept on going—because it is unusual in so many ways. We've made a specialty here of doing the hard-to-do things

... the little irksome, nagging things which bother so many housewives. We're proud of our unusual variety of services, our unusual standard of quality, and the unusual fact that so many of our customers have washers, many of them dryers.

What's So Different About The Acacia Laundromat?

First, it offers a greater variety of automatic laundry we know of — services most of which every family needs even if it does all of its own laundering. And it is our policy that every single one of these services must be better in one or more specific ways than those generally available. Our prices are competitive, but our costs are higher. Our growth has made this policy profitable.

Most important of all, we are determined to make the Acacia Laundromat exactly the kind we'd want to patronize for each of all these services if we were the customers instead of the owners. If you are in the least dissatisfied with any service we render—any time—we invite you to give us at once a chance to undo the dissatisfaction. (We, and those elsewhere who perform services for you through us, have made a few mistakes, but we're proud of the batting average.)

6 of the Reasons Why Homes With Washers Are Among Our Best Laundry Customers

1. First, of course, there are so many more families in this area with washers than families without washers.
2. Many with hard water—or water not dependably zero-soft—have us do their laundry from time to time to whiten their things. (You'd be amazed how much old soap our always-zero-soft water gets out of many washes last washed at home. And you'll be even more amazed to see how snowy-white we wash WITHOUT BLEACH!)
3. Many housewives with children, and many working wives, are often too busy to take enough time to wash and dry everything—a load at a time. (We have 19 washers, including one 2-load washer besides three 4-load fluff-dryers and 2 extractors—can wash 194 pounds simultaneously.)
4. In cold or wet weather, many women turn to us not only to escape the unpleasant job of outdoor or basement drying, but also to avoid wind-whipping, freezing, soot and dust. Once they've seen the fluffy perfection of our tumble-drying they think of us often in good drying weather too. The sun can't fade anything in our dryers.

Our fluff-dryers save so much ironing—up to one half, especially if you have us fold—that new customers are amazed. Add to this all the time you can save by ending the drudgery of line-drying.

If your laundry is washed and dried here, drying costs 35c per washer load—minimum 50c.

5. Rugs over 6 pounds may damage an automatic washer. (We use our big machines). And many other heavy washables just can't be line-dried—or dried in a small home dryer—to look as nice as we fluff them in our big dryers.

6. Many a busy woman—looking at our prices and at what she pays for hot water, soap, washer repairs and washer depreciation—finds herself wondering how much of the economy of home washing and drying comes from figuring her time as worth very little. So now and then she's likely to do something she enjoys more than washing, and leave her laundry with us. Usually she picks it up the same day, often within a few hours.

ONE Stop For All These Services

LAUNDROMAT LAUNDRY . . . a la carte, fast and snow-white. Your choice of wet-wash; drying of home-washed laundry; extracting ready for your mangle (all or part); rough dry; laundry folded so carefully that most of our customers no longer iron sheets. (If you've thought of laundry as either rough-dry or ironed, drop in some day, and look at examples of our fluff dried and folded laundry that saves so much ironing. Even creases on sheets as on ironed sheets).

And were proud to repeat — snow-white laundry without bleaching. (Bleach has its uses—for stains, for example, re-whitening whites that the manufacturer bleached in the first place, and as a disinfectant, but it is no substitute for good washing). We use bleach only if so instructed, and we don't believe in STRONG bleach at all, ever. To the full cycle of our Westinghouse Laundromats—longest cycle among washers generally used in automatic laundries—we add a pre-wash. FOUR tubfuls of water—besides spray-rinsing—for every load we wash. Our HOT water is 150 degrees, minimum.

We don't deliver (unless we fail to keep a promise) or give credit. But our cash-and-carry prices save you money. Our fast service means that you can invest less in clothing and other laundered articles. Fewer outgrown clothes too, if you have children.

We use high-quality soap, for blankets and other woolsens, and a wonderfully efficient grease solvent when needed.

WE NEVER WASH, EXTRACT OR DRY YOUR LAUNDRY WITH ANYBODY ELSE'S.

IRONED LAUNDRY—A whole laundry, or a few pieces (a tablecloth, or a few blouses, sheets and pillow cases for example.) For economy, sort your things so that our lower Laundromat prices apply to as much as possible. You'll be amazed to discover how much ironing becomes unnecessary because of our fluff-drying and careful folding.

SHIRTS—as beautifully finished shirts as you ever saw! Choice of three starches, and no starch. Our shirt business keeps growing every single week. Shirts finished in one day.

40c for "office" shirts or cotton shirts. We'll take one shirt—or 25, if you have lots of men in your family!

SPECIAL OFFER! Leave one cotton shirt with us. Examine it carefully when it comes back. If you don't agree that it is perfectly finished as any one ever done for you, there'll be no charge.

DRY CLEANING—We didn't offer dry-cleaning until finally we found a cleaner good enough for the customers we wanted to win. We now act as agents for a leading cleaner.

RUGS . . . ANY size, washed and cleaned. Dyeing of washable rugs up to 16 pounds.

DYEING . . . Dyeing by us—We dye after hours so that after washing the article we then can dye in water far hotter than we washed in—for extra color-fastness. We've washed many of our own dye jobs again and again, without fading.

DYES . . . We stock 52 colors in the big economy 26c size. If you want to do your own dyeing we'll gladly advise you.

REPAIRS, TOO. We mend and repair all kinds of garments.
