Mrs. Ruth Woodruff and her father-in-law, Alan Woodruff, left Friday for Ingleswood to visit her mother for two weeks.

The mail box delivery and pick up of letters by the star route carrier on the stretch of highway 101 covered by the Rural Route has been discontinued and the people receiving their mail from the Star route carrier have either to switch to Rural Delivery or go to the Post Office to get their mail. This not only affects the families with boxes up, but quite a few others who mailed their letters from the star route, knowing that it would be sent on from Smith River the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Turley returned home last week after being on a business trip in connection with their lily farm, going as far east as Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Oliver drove to San Francisco the first part of last week to become acquainted with their newest grandson, seven pound, three ounces Michael Roger, who was born to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hutmman on April 9th. Mr. Oliver returned home Thursday while his wife has remained in San Francisco with her daughter.

Mrs. Miriam Carson has been working in Harlan's Shopping Center for the past month while Mrs. Rita Tierce and Mrs. Mattie Carter took their vacations. Mrs. Carson was a very popular clerk at the store for some time before the birth of her son.

Mrs. Viola Bean of Washougal, Washington, has been visiting the Beans recently that she made when the Beans lived here a few years ago. She is a houseguest at the home of Mrs. Miriam Barnes in Smith River, who had been visiting at the Bean home for a few days recently.

PROCLAMATION:

WHEREAS the cultural and pleasurable benefits accruing to our community from the Community Concert Association are manifold, and,

WHEREAS many public spirited citizens take part in the annual membership drive of the Association, and,

WHEREAS the Association is able through the organized membership plan to bring top ranking musical artists to our community at a very low cost to the members.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT KNOWN that I, Byron L. Brimm, Mayor of the City of Brookings, hereby proclaim the week of April 25-30 as Community Concert Membership Campaign Week.
