

Office Of The Mayor

WHEREAS, the hunting of big game animals and other outdoor pursuits are claiming an increasing amount of the leisure time of the citizens of Brookings; and

WHEREAS, this accelerated recreational use of our forest and range lands has brought distress to some landowners and increased threat of fire to our valued woods and range lands; and

WHEREAS, the sportsmen of Oregon, recognizing the need for most care with fire and firearms, respect for the rights and property of others and observance of the laws, have inaugurated Red Hat Day;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that September 23, 1955, be proclaimed Red Hat Day in the City of Brookings and all citizens on Red Hat Day are urged to wear a red hat or a red hat button to signify their compliance with the worthwhile objectives of the Red Hat Day pledge.

Byron L. Brimm
Mayor of Brookings
September 1, 1955

Special Care Urged By Police

Leaflets appealing for special driving care to prevent accidents during the Labor Day weekend will be handed to motorists by state police officers as the holiday nears, State Police Superintendent H. G. Maison said today.

The leaflets call attention to the critical traffic hazards of the weekend and asks the help of all motorists as the five deaths charged to Labor Day traffic last year, drivers in preventing such needless

Maison said officers will be particularly alert for accident-producing violations such as driving too fast for conditions, following too close, passing without sufficient clearance, turning without giving a signal, and drunk or reckless driving.

Most motor vehicle smash-ups, Maison reminded, are found to involve a traffic law violation on the part of at least one of the drivers concerned. Strict attention to driving, he contended, makes even unintentional violations less likely to occur and increases the chances for avoiding an accident stemming from a violation committed by another driver.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Oar and children spent four days in Medford, returning Monday evening. They were on a business trip.

Mrs. Chester Davis and daughter, Dixie, returned Sunday after a weeks visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Worland, in Tillamook, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Heck, of Mentone, California, arrived in Brookings Wednesday evening to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pisarek and Todd. The Hecks are former Wisconsin residents.

Gardner—Kelly

Wedding Announced

Miss Anna Jean Gardner, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanhurst, and Glenn W. Kelly, formerly of Mapleton, were married by Justice of Peace, Roy Brown, last Saturday afternoon, in the presence of the bride's grandparents, the groom's mother, Mrs. M. E. Brown, and aunt, Mrs. Eva Olson, both of Mapleton. The groom, a veteran of Korean Service has been employed here since coming out of the army and the young couple moved into an apartment at the Chetco Inn. Anna Jean is the daughter of Howard and the late Jean (Stanhurst) Gardner.

Legal Notice

Richard Crook, and Donald Raymond of the Union Oil Service Station, Highway 101 North, are selling all their inventory and business to the new owner, Harvey Thomas, and all claims or adjustments due against their account, should be mailed to the U. S. National Bank, Brookings Branch. The final date of settlement will be 10 days from the date of publication of this notice.

To Mr. and Mrs. Milo Mann, a daughter, on the 30th.

"Today the lumber industry is accepting forestry as a part of its usual operations, growing trees for tomorrow as earnestly as it harvests others today," the booklet states.

More than 750,000 persons are employed full-time in the manufacture and distribution of lumber. There are some 65,000 sawmills in the nation, many of them operated by timberland owners who practice tree farming and spend heavily for protection against fire. Products shipped by the lumber industry in 1953 (last available figures) were valued at $5,208,023,000.

The booklet is a non-technical and will be helpful to writers, newscasters and educators in presenting facts about one of the country's greatest, as well as oldest, industries.

Gazing at the traffic parade, there sure are a lot of vehicles advertising a vast variety of services originating from all over the map, skittering about Brookings. They can't all be vacationing and some of them—a great many of them—are strongly suspected of competing for any available loose or tight change. Next thing we know, there'll be a diaper service started.

Dr. Arthur Denson left by plane for St. Petersburg, Florida, after visiting with his parents and other relatives. Mrs. Benson and two daughters are staying with her sister, Mrs. L. H. Kirtley and family for a longer visit.

Curt Walden will be brush-painting on the outside of the Community Library building, this week, covering the bare wood under the rafters and eaves, and, if he has time, getting another coat on the outside window and door trim. Several friends of the cause have contributed toward the cost of the paint.

New Booklet Issued On Lumber Industry

The role of America's lumber industry is growing its future timber supply through sound forest management is pointed out in a new 32-page booklet, "Facts About the Nation's Lumber Industry" 1955 edition, just published by American Forest Products Industries.

With narrative, charts and photographs, the booklet traces the dramatic march of the industry from its founding at James-town in 1608 to a highly complex business which is keeping pace with the timber needs of over 160 million Americans.
