Miss Sharon Center, who represented the southern part of the county as its Fair Princess at the county fair last month, attended the State Fair over the Labor Day weekend as a guest of the Fair Board. The others making the trip were the Fair Queen, Sharon Jarrett of Gold Beach and Jean Synner of Langlois. Fair Princess from the northern part of the county, Miss Jarrett's mother, Mrs. Oleta Mae Jarrett, took the girls to Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ames and their sons Danny and Mickey spent the Labor Day weekend in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foster of San Francisco left for their home Saturday after visiting here with Mr. Foster's brother, Milton, and his aunt, Mrs. Frieda Ransom, for three days.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin (Soony) Chapman and two children spent Friday and Saturday in Grants Pass and Medford. Mr. Chapman had a bone fragment removed from his nose, which had been broken in a recent woods accident at a hospital in Medford, and he is feeling much better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waldien wishes that when Max Branard and Ben Jones get together and cook up a story about her difficulties with a new gas range at her home on Long Ridge up the Chetco, that they would tell the whole story. This is in regard to the story in last week's paper, and the story was about how fast the oven heated when she was mixing up corn bread, so that it was hot a long time before she was ready for it. The oven did heat fast as was stated, but when she put the corn bread in it, it didn't bake. She just couldn't understand why, until Ben spoke up and said that he had turned the oven off as she was so long in mixing the corn bread that she had been wasting gas. She also wants people to know that that was pure fabrication about the coffee boiling all over the stove, no such thing happened at all. She surely loves that gas range though.

Popular Harbor Couple Married

The wedding of Miss Joan Pettegrew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Pettegrew, to Mr. Vernon Crockett, took place at the Brookings Community Baptist Church at eight o'clock Friday, September second. The Rev. Walter Sadler officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, had as her bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Rowley, and her other attendants were Miss Pat Hermann and Mrs. Edward Freeman. Davy J. Crockett was the best man for his brother and the other attendants were Verne Garvin and Edward Freeman. Glenda Feffer and Betty Jean Thompson were the candle lighters and the flower girls were Pam Hanscam and Susie Rowley.

Mrs. James Donnelly sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Mrs. Theo Meyer. The wedding party came in to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Meyer, who also played before the ceremony.

The bride wore a white ballerina length gown of dotted nylon sheer over satin, with a finger tip veil held in place by a coronet of dainty flowers. She carried carnations and roses on a white Bible. Her three attendants wore ballerina length dresses of orchid, blue and pink nylon sheer over taffeta. They carried nosegay bouquets of sweet peas and had coronets of roses. The mother of the bride wore a turquoise dress with white accessories, and the mother of the groom was in blue lace with white accessories.

The church was beautifully decorated with silvered greenery for a background. Autumn leaves provided a striking accent, with white candles and gladiolas used as a contrast.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the IOOF Hall with the bride and groom cutting the first piece from a three tier wedding cake. Dancing was enjoyed until about midnight, with the bridal couple leaving unobserved the early part of the evening.

After a ten-day wedding trip, which took them to San Francisco, Reno, and Lake Tahoe, they will make their home on the Pettegrew ranch for a few weeks after which they will live on the groom's ranch near the Winchuck River.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Crockett are well known, as they were both born in this area, and have lived here most of their lives. They both are graduates of the Brookings High School. Mr. Crockett with the Class of 1949, and Mrs. Crockett with the Class of 1955. Mr. Crockett, who completed his military training service a few months ago, had been in partnership with his father on the dairy ranch that he is taking over by himself.

Shirley Brickly Honored By Shower
Mrs. Agnes Rambeck entertained a group of women at her home Friday evening at a bridal shower for Miss Shirley Brickly, bride-elect of Jack Ames. An evening of appropriate games and conversation was enjoyed with the honoree receiving many nice gifts for her future home.

Besides the honored guest and the hostess, those present included Mrs. Shirley Pate, Mrs. Matilda Pate, Mrs. Alice Morrison, Mrs. Lennie Ames, Mrs. Louise LaFever, Mrs. Peggy Fogel, Mrs. Avis Smith, and Mrs. Victoria Brickly. Those sending gifts, unable to attend, were Mrs. Eva Kassa, Mrs. Brita Dahlstrom, Mrs. Peggy Wilkins, Mrs. Hazel Griffith and Miss Lois LaClair.

Shirley Brickly's Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Cordy A. Brickly, of Harbor, announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Elaine, to John H. Ames of Falls City, Oregon. The date for the wedding has not been announced.

MORSE WRITES LETTER

A letter from Wayne Morse, addressed to P. D. Stark in Brookings, thanked Mr. Stark for calling his attention to the fact that radio and T-V reception was poor outside of the Eureka station. Morse asked Stark and his friends to write the stations there, if they would like Morse program carried on those stations.

The many friends of John Burbach, who recently underwent minor surgery in a Portland Hospital, will be glad to know he's coming along nicely and his folks are expecting him home shortly.
