

Harbor News

Everyone seems to be busy these days, at least visits and visitors are down to a minimum. The lily harvest season has started, and crews, mostly women, are at work in both the fields and bulb sheds. Many women look forward to the harvest to earn extra money for things they want or to save towards Christmas. After one works a week, so that the muscles are broken in to the constant bending and standing the rest of the season is over, with a nice nest egg at the usual rate of $1.25 an hour to be spent. The bulbs are shipped to cold storage until the green houses are ready to force them into bloom for the Easter trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Logue, of Yacolt, Washington left Thursday for their home after visiting for a couple of days at the Herbert Payne home. Mrs. Logue and Mrs. Payne were former school mates when their families lived up Evan Creek near Rogue River about 1910, and they hadn't seen each other for nearly forty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wood returned to their home in Ocean Lake the later part of the week after taking care of business matters here and in Smith River.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Smith left last Friday for Ashland where they plan to make their future home. They recently sold their cabins and trailer court above Hanscoms Center to E. A. Stevens, who has taken possession.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Sharp and family are enjoying a visit from Mr. Sharp's mother, Mrs. Odessa Mason, who arrived from Arkansas City, Kansas, on the 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Bagley spent a couple of days here visiting at the home of Mrs. Bagley's brother Milton Foster. They were on their way to Laytonville to visit their son, Sam, and his family. The Bagleys have spent the summer in Lakeview and Central Point. On the way to the coast they came by way of Wimer, on the Evans Creek near Rogue River, and visited another of Mrs. Bagley's brothers, Ernest Foster, and the Glen McKay family. The McKays recently moved from Brookings and bought the sawmill at Wimer which they are now operating.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dempsey had a few days in Portland where Ed gave the new model Dodge cars the once and twice over.

Mr. and Mrs. Val Mendenhall—"Mendy" of Ed and Mendy's Chevron station, and "Mary" left, Monday morning, via Southwest Airways, Crescent City, on their all-expense paid trip to New York. The vacation is Mendy's share of the award to Ed and Mendy's for topping some 122 other service stations in the San Francisco area handling Chevron products.

Ed Lawrence, up at Pistol River, tumbled with a chain saw, or something, and hurt his back pretty badly so he's quite bunged up. Ed is older than most of us and there aren't many Lawrences left, hereabouts, where there used to be plenty of 'em so he better take it easy and let the mechanical termites alone for a spell.

Mrs. Montie Leonard is quite ill, at her home, with a severe cold.

Mrs. Florence Hill Morrison, of Springfield, visited locally last week. Mrs. Morrison spent considerable time with the Tisdales and especially Mrs. Tisdale's father, Will McIndoe, to whom Mrs. Morrison is related by marriage. Mrs. Morrison is the daughter of the late John R. Hill, and spent her girlhood days here.
