The International Relations Club had its first meeting Thursday morning. They discussed the possibility of raising money to finance a foreign student's college education for a year. It only costs $40 a year for a Japanese student.

There were twenty students at the meeting and the officers elected are: Pres. Douglas Goldsberry; Vice-Pres., Joan Kuhnheim; Corresponding Sec., Kay Nichols; Recording Sec., Sylvia Gates; Treas., Connie Jensen.

Other plans for the club were discussed and this week Erskine Miller, who has correspondence with people all over the world is coming to speak to the club. The club is planning to start its own correspondence.

The student body had a party September 30. It was a great success. They served cookies and punch for refreshments, danced to records and played shuffle board and ping-pong.

The Music Masters Club, under the direction of Mr. Dial, had its first meeting Monday morning, in the Music Room. The club will be affiliated with the National organization. The chorus and band students will be eligible if they have a 2.0 or better grade average. The music appreciation course and writing music for ensemble groups are among the projects discussed.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting and a name for the club will be chosen.

Quite a furor in the metropolitan sheets, lately, over a mother who increased the family weight some 17 or 18 pounds, with twins. It has been done more thoroughly in Curry County. Dorothy (Payne) Cates and Donald Payne were 22 pound twins and Evelyn (Hodges) their sister, weighed 14 pounds, at birth. Their papa and mamma are Mr. and Mrs. Henry (and Gladys) Payne. Both parents are reported as doing nicely.

Morris Corderman just loves three groups each made up of nine sundry other guys who eased his cleaning business a bit further out of the red via the World's Series, apparently being run in the east for his special benefit.

Robert Swan Jr., a freshman at University of Oregon, has been pledged to the Beta Theta Phi fraternity, according to reports.

NEW COAST GUIDE SOON

Local Chambers of Commerce along the Oregon coast from Crescent City, California to Raymond, Washington this week were asked by the Oregon Coast Association to update local recreational information and furnish new pictures for the 1956 Oregon Coast guide.

One hundred thousand of these 32-page folders will be published and ready for distribution by January 5, 1956. An even greater amount of material will be used in 1956, according to Don Houghton, president of the non-profit travel promotion and highway association, designed to lure additional thousands of the tourist crop.

Now in its 14th consecutive year, the guide is distributed without charge, through AAA offices, travel information centers, by mail to thousands of individual inquiries and through the Pacific Northwest Travel Association.

PNTA, Houghton said, is made up of Non-Profit state travel promotion agencies in Oregon, Washington, Alberta-British Columbia, Montana, Wyoming, and Idaho. This year PNTA will have two 8x30 foot display booths at 8 travel, sports and vacation shows throughout the nation and the Oregon Coast association as a member uses these facilities.

Nearly 2000 inquiries were answered with coast folders as a result of the 8-page Sunset Magazine Oregon Coast travel feature in September. Hundreds of inquiries were also received to the travel feature about the coast appearing in Family Circle, a chain store magazine for April. Some of these inquiries were from as far away as Quebec, Canada.

Dr. A. O. Schmidt phoned the Matots, Tuesday evening, from Eastern Oregon, saying he expected to be back in his office Thursday morning. As he told "A. J." not to look for him until he got his buck the inference is he got it.

friends to come and join in the fun. There will be lots of entertainment for all ages. Dancing, singing, skits and refreshments all for you and your neighbors and friends."

One of the features of the program will be the honoring of the charter members of the Grange, on its twenty-fifth anniversary, and to present them with Silver Star pins and certificates for the twenty-five years of continuous membership.
