Mrs. Alma Deets, of Langlois, was in town, the middle of the week, setting up the TB and Health Association unit for Southern Curry. Mrs. Deets is the Seal Sale chairman and was greatly pleased with the cooperation she received. Announcements will be made later.

Charlie Richmond, at the Shell Station, tells us he'll continue to clean out the ambulance, after each trip, and get soiled material down to the Acacia Laundromat, who have offered to cleanse it. Charlie has been doing this much needed chore for quite a while and we just overlooked his offering to keep it up.

Mrs. Kathryn Foster writes in there'll be no news because she's down with the flu—and encloses her regular couple of pages of what's going on in Harbor, so far as she knows.

Mrs. Erma Rice has also been down with a hard cold, pretty tough at any season of the year, but especially so when the fishing is worth trying.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seger were in town Tuesday, down from Gold Beach at Ed's business of chasing "veteran's problems.

There is some agitation afoot for traffic lights in Brookings. The chatters already have the sites picked out at the Grade School, Heartstone, Chetco Avenue and Pacific, Chetco and Fern and also Chetco and Oak.

The Frank Tygarts have moved their plunder into their newly purchased home near the Winchuck's mouth, where Mrs. Bertha Moore lived for years, and the Ed Oars shifted their chattels into the vacancy made by Frank, Pauline and Jimmy.

Curry County was not represented at the Fall Conference of the Oregon Association Department of Classroom Teachers, held in Portland, last Friday and Saturday, according to a release which lists delegates from 26 other Oregon counties. Of the some 11,000 Oregon members, about 75 teachers attended.

Mrs. Ray Nelson, and three children, took advantage of the teachers convention and Ray's absence elk hunting, and spent a few days visiting in Roseburg.

A SALUTE TO FIR PLYWOOD

THE MATERIAL EVERYONE USES

Today we salute the fir plywood industry which this year is commemorating its 50th anniversary.

Fir plywood produced only on the West Coast is sold everywhere. It is used to build millions of useful things, and new uses are being discovered constantly.

We are fully aware of the importance of fir plywood to the area's economy, and we will continue to lend our support to the industry and to its efforts on behalf of fir plywood's increasing popularity and usefulness.

ATTEND THE FREE SHOW

and SEE the Brookings Plywood Plant during their Open House Friday, November 4th from 2 to 9 p.m.
