BAPTIST GROUP HAS MEETING

The Executive Committee of the Baptist Church Missionary Society met Monday at the home of the President, Mrs. John Burback, on Easy Street. Plans were made for the next meeting to be held in the basement of the church, November 17, with dessert lunch at 1:30, with Mrs. Archie Hendricks and Mrs. O. F. Kruger as hostesses.

Mrs. Walter Sadler, program chairman, is preparing a pantomime depicting White Cross work and White Cross work will be given out. Baby gowns, crib sheets and surgery gowns are to be made and sent to Missionary hospitals where they are much needed. Mrs. Claude Goldizen will be in charge of devotions. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Christianson spent a few days around their old home in Glide, visiting friends there and at Roseburg, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Hibbard have returned to their Harbor home after over a month in Washington. They have been on their annual trek to help one of Webb's brothers with his apple harvest.

Mrs. Edith Ackley, whose phone is 2472, will be writing news for the PILOT. Anyone having anything they think might be of interest to others are asked to get in touch with her.

Charlie Young went to Portland, last week, on a buying trip, he said, but his trip suspiciously coincided with the Evergreen Earbershoppers show there.

An unconfirmed report says that Col. Grant Williams, U.S.A.G.C., is a patient at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco, having had a heart attack the same day as President Eisenhower. Grant is said to have been stationed in the states at the time, after a long turn of duty in the Orient. He and Mrs. Williams are very well known throughout the older Curry residents, he having been district attorney and Mrs. Williams county superintendent for some years.

Africa—none of whom are subscribers to the Pilot.

Add another to the long list of reasons why I like to live in Brookings. Nobody seems to care about how a person dresses, or what a guy is wearing. I wear a tie so seldom that relatives have stopped sending them to me for Christmas. Take the other day for a case in point. I borrowed a Chinese robe and a Scotch plaid vest, which I draped over the robe and went into Dimmick's to buy some tobacco. Noone even thought I looked different. The robe and vest went for a costume party, and I won't be wearing them often on the street.

A certain popular electrician in town, who had better remain nameless, has offered his services to all the distraught wives in the area, to wire up their husbands cars, ala Marjorie. There was no word whether or not the business would be a booming business.

Along those lines, a lot of mem-folk in the region have been encouraging their wives to go out in the mornings to start their cars to get them "warmed up."

There Is No Magic Formula

THERE is nothing mysterious about the treatment of disease. It is a sound, practical procedure. The physician deliberates each individual case, prescribes the remedy indicated. Despite the wild propaganda of the patent medicine venders, there is no magic formula. In many instances, indiscriminate self-medication results in serious harm. Even a minor illness should not be neglected. When you feel "out of sorts," consult a competent physician. Receive the benefit of his years of study. Then bring his prescriptions to us to be filled. If yours is an illness that yields to treatment, prompt recovery will be your reward.
