Rotarians Visit Community Library After Scolding

Tuesday noon several of the Brookings Rotary members visited the Community Library building. For many of them, it was their first visit and several did not even know where the building was. The visit followed a short talk on the facility by M. S. Brainard, of the City Library Committee, in which Mr. Brainard told of the evolution of the library, now had been turned over to the community and which would cost them but a very few dollars to maintain.

The Rotarians, who visited, each contributed to the Association Fund and steps have been taken to further add to their contributions. Not only that, but some of them discussed the matter of interesting the club, as a whole, in the project.

LION'S PROJECT

The Brookings-Harbor Lions Club is taking part in a National project for the raising of funds to be expended in their various activities, both local and National. They will, very soon, be conducting an intensive sale of bags of light bulbs for home use, at a cost to the customer of $2.02, according to the local Lion's president, Al Phillips.
