CHRISTMAS STORIES WANTED
 We've had several promises for stories on "The Old Time Christmas I Remember Best," Mary and Milt and Happy and Jack, we're sure, are going to send in theirs and there are probably some more in the making that we don't know about yet. What we're really trying to find out for our Christmas issue are the kinds associated with the Season's cards we all know so well. We know there are Grandpas and Grandmas who can tell their young folks about those Good Old Christmas,es, whether they were right here in Curry, Coos or DeDi Norte, or back where the snows heaped high for the Yule or the live oaks hung with swaying Spanish moss, tucked back in some Bayou. We'd really welcome something from Goldie and Laura and Maude, Alvin, Will or Frank, and everyone whose story, if it does not appear in print, will forever be lost.
 Like we said before-we not only want to read these stories ourselves and share them with others, but we'd like a respite from doing all this writing ourselves.
