

BRUINS DROP TWO

Arcata proved too strong for the Brookings Bruins last week end, and soundly beat the locals, once on the Arcata floor Friday night 45-28 and again Saturday night on the Brookings court 71-51. The Bruins just couldn't hit from the floor against the smooth operating Tigers Friday, only netting nine buckets. Stan Gribble and Ron Bullock each contributed six points to lead the limited point production.

Saturday night, the Tigers were hitting well from all over the floor, and jumped to a 20-14 lead and never were approached by the Brookings cagers.

The Bruin high point men were Stan Gribble with 10, Ralph Ingle, Gary Coates and Jerry Anderson each with 7, and Ron Bullock with 6.

A well deserved rest awaits the Bruins now, who won't play until the Tuesday after Christmas, when Myrtle Points visits here.

LUKE'S TREE SWIPED

Ed Dempsey, so Luke Kuhn-henn, one of his helpers says, brought Luke a nice California-grown Christmas tree and set it outside Luke's door, at Alder and Del Norte. Next morning, the tree was gone—maybe to a hot Dodge prospect Ed had turned up in the meantime. Anyway, Monday morning, Luke was again in the market for a tree. (Luke—see Tommy Page, one of the Pilot's advertisers.)

THE ONES MISSED

One reason so many hunters lost out getting their bucks in Southeastern Oregon, according to a Game Commission news release, is because several bucks were found who had shed their horns.

In one case, an antler fell off when a deer was shot and the other when it was being loaded into a pickup and the horns of another were found by the officers just being held on with the skin about their base and still another buck was noted that didn't have any antler growth at all and was probably passed up by hunters.

These, according to the report, are the earliest authentic reports of Oregon deer shedding their antlers, which normally stay on until February or March.

AWAY THE GREYS

The grey aluminum auto license plates Oregon has had for the past five years will finally go out of style with the end of the year. If you have one of these relics on your car now, just figure how prominent they may be for the starting of 1956.

MRS. ACKLEY'S NOTES

Sunday evening the children's Christmas Party was held in the Baptist Community Church, even though there were no lights for a while. The huge Christmas tree finally came to life. The tree was furnished by the Gene Andersons and was beautifully decorated. Children from the various departments, under the directions of their teachers, contributed much of the program with Mrs. Ethel Kruger as chairman. Silvia and David sang a duet, "Star of the East" and Judy Sadler acted as narrator for the senior classes. After the program, treats of candy and nuts were given to the children.

VISITS FROM MARYLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Lapp are enjoying a visit from their eldest son and wife who drove out from Windsor, Maryland, to spend the Christmas with his parents. The two families will leave Thursday for Wenatchee, Washington, to spend a week with other relatives.

Miss Norene Doherty, student at O.T.L., is spending the holidays with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Doherty.

Tom King came home Wednesday, from Fort Ord, to spend the holidays with his wife and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clive Manley entertained Saturday and Sunday evening with a pre-Christmas party for their many friends. Games were played, carols sung, and a buffet lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rogers will leave Thursday, for Salem to visit over the holidays and visit Mrs. Rogers' parents.

Sunday night's severe windstorm toppled the beautifully decorated Christmas tree at Ed Dempsey's car lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hendricks are the parents of a daughter, born December 16th at the land Sanitarium. They named the baby Deborah Sue, and will stay in Portland until after the New Year.

Eighteen ladies attended the Baptist Missionary Society meeting Thursday, at the Baptist Community Church. A Christmas program was enjoyed with Mrs. Sadler as chairman. A large carton of gaily wrapped gifts were sent to the State Hospital. Mrs. Archie Hendricks' class of younger girls also contributed.

We Give Thanks

No name has been more often repeated than Jesus Christ. More pictures and more effigies have been made of Him, and more words, in more tongues, have been spoken and written of Him than any other person, real or mythical.

Even the most prejudiced agnostic, the most vehement atheist, cannot ignore His popularity, or, if spitefully deny, shrug off the circumstance of His Birth, the Magnitude of His Timely and Timeless Influence.

How can anyone ignore His greatness? How can anyone deny His Influence on the lives of everyone of us? How can the Christendom — how can the Whole Wide World—do anything else but bow in Thanks the Day of Christ's Mass?

It is because of His Advent and Teachings we must pray as ardently today as those about the Manger, "Peace on Earth and Goodwill Toward All Men."

FISH DERBIES

With the beginning of the year a new state law goes into effect which will change the complexion of the many derbies that have been run in the state. After that date it will be illegal to give awards of $25 or less, in value, and will be limited to buttons, ribbons, plaques, or other trophy and must not consist of either cash or expensive merchandise.

STUDENTS GIVE TO C-A-R-E

The students at the Bangor school, a suburb of Coos Bay, gathered $50 which they have sent to CARE, in SEATTLE, thereby assuring a half-ton of food to overseas needy. CARE packages are available at $10 each.

WAX FROM FIR BARK

Oregon Development officials say they are about to reach a decision whereby a large eastern firm may invest heavily in an Oregon plant for the extraction of wax from fir bark. The wax has already been profitably processed in a pilot plant which has been operating in Wilson, Arkansas, for over a year, and has already been used for polishes of all types, carbor paper, and in lead pencils. The process was developed by Dr. E. F.

of the Oregon State College Faculty.
