TEACHERS ARE TAUGHT

Brookings-Harbor youngsters had a "breather" this week while their teachers went to school. A workshop mainly concerned with reading, was scheduled for Monday and Tuesday of this week, with all the teachers attending.

The program consisted of several speakers from the State Department of Education, Miss Jean Saulding, and Miss Neva Dallas. Also on the program was Miss Bernice Hughes from the Scotts-Foreman's Book Co.

The program was geared on helping slow readers, on what to expect in a reading program, word-recognition skills, and common problems in reading.

A panel discussion was held Tuesday on "What We Expect in A Reading Program" with the following participating: Mrs. Cliff Bushnell, parent; School Board Member, Dr. Paul Ronniger; County School Superintendent, Ed Seger; Special In-

MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE PROGRESS

Totals for the March of Dimes campaign, under the sponsorship of the Brookings-Harbor Lions Club aren't in as yet, although the party Saturday night at the Cliff House was a big success. Club officials reported that well over $400 was taken in Saturday night and another $83 was realized from the basketball game Sunday.

Over 90 entries have been received for the March of Dimes Bowling Tournament, and it should clear over a $100.

The Brookings-Harbor Lions wish to thank all the merchants and other people of the community for the fine support given during the campaign. The final totals will be announced next week.

Education Teacher, Mrs. Hallie Bell and business representative Frenchy Arrell.

I have a new sign tacked up on my wall—sent to me through the courtesy of Betty Young. The sign is off the cover of a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post and quotes Ben Franklin. The quotation also expresses my sentiments: "If all printers were determined not to print anything til they were sure it would offend nobody, there would be very little printed."

Everybody has asked me if I am a descendant of this "Bridley Murphy" character that has popped up recently. It just so happens that my father's third cousin on my mother's side was named Bridget, so I might be at that. At any rate, the story makes fascinating reading, even though I personally think it is a bigger hoax than the "Cariff Man" of some years back.

Naturally, the Lions have been giving us a riding about only four Rotarians in good enough

LADY LIONS MEET — The Lions Auxiliary met on January 30th at the home of Mrs. Jewel Coates. Bingo was played and cake was served. The planning of a Jitney Party for March 16th for Lions and their friends was discussed.

The Brookings Odd Fellows and Rebekahs have received an invitation to attend the joint public installation to be held February 4th (Saturday) evening by the Klamath Lodge and Delta Rebekah Lodge at their hall in Crescent City.

shape to play basketball. But I do want to report a fifth man, Tom McKenzie, who unfortunately broke his left wrist above the ankle just before the game and wasn't able to make it.

I saw the County Superintendent Ed Seger, in downtown Brookings Tuesday, looking up at all the tall buildings. Seger is a young, responsible sort of guy that seems to know what he is doing. I believe that the county school system is in very good hands.

Brace yourself up against the Siskiyou boys and girls. The political pot seems to have erupted during the last week. Candidates are popping out from under every rock. We don't reach into our mail box, without hauling out some candidates message to the people. If only they are as willing to spend a few bucks on advertising as they are on news releases, this should be a banner year for the Pilot, and I could buy seat covers to patch up my '51 Chev.
