And to the north, we have Gold Beach, the county seat. Lo, and in the county seat we have a newspaper. Yea, and that newspaper keeps opening its editorial mouth and sticking its press in it. However, we won't be too critical this week, because it almost looks like the editor and publisher was being a little easy on us for a change. She called Brookings a "progressive and prosperous community". A small change from her "broke" scream of two weeks ago.

She did say that Brookings is closer to California than Gold Beach—and implied that our interests are knitted to that state rather than our own county. In other words, we are just pretend-to-be Oregonians. I am sure she isn't aligning the other half of the County against Brookings, when she asks us to put up our "own slate of candidates" for the county offices.

Pipe Dreams

I asked all my daughters just what that white stuff was outside the window Wednesday morning. One said duck feathers a second salt and a third claimed it was baby cereal. The fourth can't talk yet.

We are supposed to be out of town Friday and Saturday for a press conference at Eugene. So if there are any complaints about this weeks paper please hold them until Monday.

We met Alexander Lake and his wife Friday at their beach home at the state line. That man has been around more than just somewhat. A white hunter in Africa for many years, Lake is now an author of some note. A very interesting person.

IS AD-RIME WINNER

Bernice Swanson won the second weeks Ad-Rime contest, and will receive $10.00 in cash if she drops into the Pilot Office. Her Ad-Rime was in rhyming with the headline, "Proper Prices Grade For Grade," she wrote, "Spend Your Money Where It's Made."

MRS. REUBEN HICCOCK

Mrs. Reuben Hiccock, for many years resident of Gold Beach, passed away the fore part of this week. Along with her husband in their business enterprises, Mrs. Hiccock, "sons" to her many, many friends, was active in both the Rebels and Eastern Star. Besides a husband she leaves sons, Lloyd of Portland; Ralph of Gold Beach; and a daughter Mrs. Harvey (Wilda) Cook, of Pistol River.

MARRIED 50 YEARS

There was a grand gathering of old timers at the Ed Lawrence last Sunday, all bringing their good wishes, and those of many others, to Ed and Olive, in recognition of their Golden Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence have made their home on Pistol River, where Ed was born, for over half a century, during which time they have always been reckoned as the best of neighbors.

CHANGES MADE

Citizens intending to vote this coming election should carefully check their precinct, due to the recent changes. Those who live within the City of Brookings should assure themselves that they are registered to vote in that portion in which they actually live—either north or south of the Chetco Avenue—Highway 101. Their names, if properly registered, will appear in the poll books of their registered precinct, and not in any other poll book.

Those living OUTSIDE the City of Brookings and not already registered in the Ferrel's precinct should assure themselves they are so registered. According to an order of the Curry County Court, the voters to take in all residents between Long Ridge and Carpentersville to the Chetco River, excluding those who actually live within the City Limits of Brookings. No polling place for the Ferrel's precinct has as yet, been revealed.

HARBOR NEWS

Thirteen members of the Chetco Grange Home De Club met at the hall for their February meeting, last Friday afternoon. They worked on dish towels for the project at the next meeting, on March 11th. It was voted to give dinners as their money-raising project. The members are now working on year books.
